Great Ship Line Merger To Proceed Despite Suit Threat

British Commons Told By Chancellor of Exchequer Injunction Hint From New York Will Not Stop Cunard-White Star Union

Ship Officials Voice Confidence

Canadian Press and Associated Press
London, March 15.—The British Government will proceed with the merger of the Cunard-White Star shipping lines despite the injunction threat of the International Mercantile Marine Company, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, indicated today in the House of Commons.

"The board of the Oceanic (White Star) Company," the Chancellor said, "have been authoritatively advised they may legally implement their part in the merger scheme without consent of the American company."

NEW YORK STATEMENT
P. A. S. Franklin, president of the I.M.M. Company in New York Wednesday threatened a suit to stop the merger, which is being subsidized by the British Government, alleging the White Star Line owed his company some $1,000,000.

"I wish, however, to make it plain," Mr. Chamberlain continued, "that if a contrary decision emerges as a result of legal action, the parties can obtain by alternative methods which would not be open to attack precisely the result which the I.M.M. Company and such methods would be within the scope of the North Atlantic shipping bill in its present form."

CONFIDENCE VOICED
Confidence in the merger of the Cunard and White Star lines would withstand any court action contemplated by United States interests was expressed today by high shipping authorities concerned with the deal. Contrary to the statement in New York of P. A. S. Franklin, the shipping officials intimated the I.M.M. Company has no hold on the British companies involved.

As the White Star office in London was stated Mr. Franklin's company held its interest to the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

"The sum of more than $10,000,000 mentioned by Mr. Franklin as due the Mercantile Company," White Star officials said, is actually due the Mercantile Marine from the Royal Mail."

Well, that is his statement," was the comment when attention was called to Mr. Franklin's threat of a suit fight.

BILL SEEKS WORK CODES

McGeer Offers Amendments to Economic Council Bill Before B.C. Legislature

Sweeping amendments to the government's Economic Council bill, designed to set up provincial industrial and labor codes fashioned along the lines of the NRA in the United States, will be advocated by G. G. McGeer, K.C., Vancouver-Burrard, when the bill reaches the committee stage, according to notice posted today.

Harold E. Winch, Vancouver East, opposed by the same measure to regulate completely all industry with wide government powers to supervise both production and distribution.

Mr. McGeer's suggested changes would make it possible for any industrial, commercial or trade association to apply to the government for a code of "fair competition, standardization, as far as practical, of the volume of production, methods of distribution, wages, working conditions, prices and all other matters intended to improve and benefit the consumer, labor, industry and commerce generally."

Power would be vested in the government, however, to make final decision on the wisdom of such codes. He also proposes the Economic Council conduct a survey of industries to reduce cost of government, specially with regard to consolidation of municipal and provincial services.

Administration of the minimum wage act by the Economic Council head of the new Industrial Relations Board is also suggested by Mr. McGeer.

INSULL FLEES FROM GREECE

Man Wanted in Chicago Believed on Way to Paris

Associated Press
Athens, March 15.—Samuel Insull Sr., wanted in Chicago on charges of embezzlement and grand larceny, fled from his apartment home early today and it was believed he was on his way to Paris.

After hours of official silence and dozens of conflicting unofficial rumors, the government, through the department of alien control, admitted officially the seventy-four-year-old former utilities czar had escaped.

Insull apparently made his escape through a police cordon that surrounded his home where he has been in refuge from United States authorities more than a year.

The tale was told that he left dressed as a woman.

Mrs. Insull was taken into custody and questioned by police. They also questioned Mrs. Kuyundoglu, a close friend of the Insulls. Personal servants also were put on the grid.

Mrs. Insull told police her husband had left, but said she had no idea of where he had gone.

OFFICIAL ORDER

Insull's sudden disappearance came while high government authorities were declaring Insull positively would leave the country to-night in compliance with the official order that he had to quit Greece before midnight.

Some people believed he might have fled in the darkness to one of the thousands of islands of the Aegean Sea, some of which belong to Greece, some to Italy and some to Turkey.

General opinion, however, was Insull had Paris in mind when he left.

London, March 15.—The Athens correspondent of The London Evening News reported today Greece has decided to wash its hands of Samuel Insull Sr. by sending him to Albania if it is unable to obtain a visa for him.

It was said the government would send him there because it was from that country he entered Greece in 1932.

Fire broke out. Flames spread quickly to buildings and swept over many blocks. The city hall and church were among the buildings consumed.

NEW LABOR BILL IN QUEBEC STUDIED

Canadian Press
Quebec, March 15.—The precedent-setting bill giving the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council power to bind all concerns in the same industry to collective agreements between groups of employees and employers today was studied by Quebec Legislative Assembly members.

The re-drafted form of the bill, sponsored by Hon. C. J. Armand, Minister of Labor, was distributed in the House Wednesday in preparation for its formal presentation in the Assembly. As originally drawn up, the bill provoked criticism from many sections of labor bodies.

INCREASE IN LAND SALES

Figures For First Two Months of Year in Victoria Well Over 1933

Land sales in Victoria for February, 1934, were $26,490 above those for the corresponding month last year, figures released today by George Okell, city assessment commissioner, show.

For the first two months of the year, the city shows an increase of $25,850 over those of January and February of 1933, the totals being $126,450 against $120,600.

Last February's total was $86,480 as compared with $60,390 for the same period last year.

Total land transfers for the first two months also show a rise of $338,422 for 1934 over 1933. These include parcels of land changing hands through wills and means other than sales. They do not, however, deal with tax sale properties.

Actual sales this year saw the transfer of eighty-six properties, forty-one in January and forty-five in February, against fifty-two up to the end of the shortest month last year.

The increase is regarded as a good indication of improvement in general conditions.

The figures, however, are considerably below those of 1932.

CONSERVATIVES IN COMMONS DECLARE FOR TITLES SYSTEM

Opposed By Liberals, Farmers and Laborites, Bennett's Followers, With One Adherent, Give Majority of Nineteen For Distinctions For Canadians

Ottawa, March 15.—The titles debate in the Commons is a matter of history as far as the session of 1934 is concerned, and the Conservatives are on record as in favor of such distinctions for Canadians.

The discussion lasted part of yesterday afternoon and when the vote came the Mitchell resolution calling on the Premier not to recommend any Canadians to the King for titles was rejected 113 to ninety-four.

All the Conservatives present but two voted against the motion, and hence for titles, and all the Liberals, Farmers and Laborites but one voted in favor of the resolution.

The Conservative bolters were George Spotton, North Huron, Ont., and Dr. I. D. Colman, North Renfrew, Ont.

On the Liberal side the only titled member, Sir Eugene Forster of Rimouski, voted with the government.

Premier Bennett Expresses Regret Upper Chamber at Washington Declined to Ratify Pact Supported By President Roosevelt

Issue in U.S. Election Campaign

Washington, March 15.—Disappointed supporters of the St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty prepared today to carry the issue into the November campaign.

Hope was expressed in some quarters the administration would go to the public on the question and renew negotiations with Canada for some modification of the treaty terms.

Rejection of the treaty by the Senate Wednesday left its supporters undismayed. The defeat had been conceded for several days.

President Roosevelt indicated a revised pact, with some interpretive reservations, perhaps, would be submitted to the next Senate. In the November elections half of the body that rejected the pact must stand for re-election.

Senator Key Pittman, hardest worker in the Senate on the treaty's behalf, predicted the instrument would be resubmitted to the Senate at the next session, and would be ratified.

CONTEST IN U.S. AUTO INDUSTRY

Washington, March 15.—Flat refusal to recognize labor unions was voiced before the National Labor Board today by automobile spokesmen shortly after William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, had asserted elsewhere that the auto industry is on the verge of one of the greatest strikes in the history of the nation.

Leaders of the automobile industry told the board they also declined to admit it was any jurisdiction over disputes with their workers.

New Era Planned For Southeast Europe

Premiers of Italy, Austria and Hungary in Rome Discuss Economic Independence of Austria

Rome, March 15.—A concrete plan for the economic independence of Austria was formulated today by Premier Mussolini of Italy, Chancellor Dollfus of Austria and Premier Goemboes of Hungary.

The three premiers also laid plans for improvement of the economic situation of the Danubian states.

Fulvio Suvich, under-secretary of foreign affairs, conducted the visitors to Il Duce's office.

Circles close to the government said it was logical to hope the plans being drafted by the three premiers would create a new era in southeast Europe.

They reiterated these plans would serve as a basis for an invitation to France, Germany and the Little Entente to participate in an economic agreement.

RESULTS AWAITED

The invitation will be extended, it is said, some time after the agreement made by Chancellor Dollfus, Premier Goemboes and Premier Mussolini has begun to bear fruit.

STANDARDIZED PRICES URGED

Nova Scotia Retail Merchants Submit Plan to Commons Business Committee

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 15.—Standardization of goods and price-fixing agreements were advocated today before the Commons committee of the House of Commons by J. C. Doyle, secretary of the Nova Scotia Retail Merchants' Association. The plan, designed to prevent unfair, unethical business practices would be an adaptation of the English proprietary articles trade association plan.

Under the English system, the Maritime told the committee, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers set prices at conferences. No big buying organizations would drop prices through mass buying and thereby gain an unfair advantage over small, independent merchants who paid unusual prices, he said.

On the standardization of goods, Mr. Doyle said he would prevent manufacturers from making an article slightly under the size or quality of their standard product and selling it at a reduced price to chain stores.

DECLARED COMBINE
A Canadian P.A.T.A. organized some years ago in Toronto and confined them to drugs, was declared later to be an illegal combine.

If small retailers could buy on the same basis as chain stores they could compete and stay in business, Mr. Doyle told the committee.

FIGURES GIVEN
Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman of the committee, told the House that an executive meeting later today at which a general agenda would be mapped. He said the Dominion Bureau of Statistics had prepared tables of price spreads on wheat, flour, sugar, milk, butter, eggs, cattle, sheep, fish, textiles, gasoline and petroleum products. These tables would be considered at a future session of the committee.

EASTERN STORES TIRE SALE

C.C.F. Drops Ideals For Party Game Says Premier to Connell

The Premier said he did not withdraw a single word of his work and wages program. He meant them when he made them, and he meant them now, and already the government was taking action along these lines. He objected to being called upon to answer statements that were alleged to have been made in this regard, as he would have enough problems to meet to carry out the policies it was intended should be carried out. Some persons, he had been told, had alleged promises had been made to put work and wages in effect within ten days of the election.

THROUGHOUT PROVINCE

The Liberal conception of work and wages went further than a government program of building roads and bridges, said the Premier, and recalled his election speeches in which he said the Liberal policy was to co-operate with industry to start the wheels turning throughout the province. He reiterated his argument that if millions could be found for war as they were found from 1914 to 1918, millions should be found for a war on poverty.

"If this province controlled credit and currency I assure you we would not be waiting around," said the Premier. "We would go right ahead now. If the time comes when we are not able to make arrangements with the Dominion Government we will have to adopt other ways and means and this government will present measures from time to time to meet this situation."

"The programme of work and wages is already in progress," declared Premier Pattullo, and intimated legislation before the House, and intimated other legislation to be passed as part of the policy.

"We not only want wages but wages of the right kind and not the kind that have been paid," he said, in citing the Minimum Wage Act as part of the scheme. The Economic Council was also referred to by the Premier and the C.C.F. had commented that, he noted.

Urging the members of the C.C.F. to be calm and fair, he pointed out the budget did not pretend to be a presentation of all the measures and the future programme of the government. While the Opposition criticized the government on the grounds of failure to immediately put work and wages into effect they must bear in mind the shape of the province's finances when the government took office. The Premier said the government got money to start a work programme immediately.

Mr. Connell, in moving the motion, said he saw no signs of the heralded new Liberalism in the budget. The

Lindbergh In Heavy Storm Losses No Inflation Airmail Break On Australia Coast Says Roosevelt

Flier Refuses to Serve on Committee Studying U.S. Army Aviation

Associated Press
New York, March 15.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in a telegram to Secretary of War George H. Dern, today reiterated his refusal to take part, "directly or indirectly," in the military investigation into army aviation.

Washington, March 15.—The United States Government declined today to take "no" for an answer from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The flying colonel denounced the Roosevelt administration for a second time for its action in turning the air mail over to the army, yesterday evening turned down Secretary of War Dern's invitation to help in a broad study of army aviation.

Early today Secretary Dern sent a conciliatory answer to the airman. It said:

"Your telegram indicates a misconception of the purposes of the committee on which I asked you to serve."

"I desire a comprehensive study of army aviation in which carrying airmail will figure only incidentally as a lesson in determining the efficiency or shortcomings of the army air corps, regarding which the public is bewildered, so far as national defence is concerned."

"I am sure your counsel would be very valuable."

WIDE INTEREST
The new break between the famous airman and the administration over the white-hot air mail controversy stirred much interest today.

Invited to serve on the committee with Col. Lindbergh were Orville Wright, Col. Clarence Chamberlin and others. Mr. Wright declined, for reasons of health, but Col. Chamberlin accepted, saying:

"They have picked a committee that represents views on both sides of the fence. The army is perfectly capable of flying the mail, but it needs more training, more equipment, more time."

There was no indication today as to whether Col. Lindbergh would reconsider his refusal to serve.

The ladies of St. Martin's held a very successful and enjoyable Irish concert in the Parish Hall yesterday evening. The programme consisted of a variety of Irish songs, dances and instrumental music.

The programme was well received and during the intermission a canny was sold. The programme included Irish songs by Mrs. Holmes, Messrs. Jackman, Pearson, La Prune and G. Ede.

Piano solos were played by Mrs. Sangster and Miss Mary Jameson; Mr. Moscop played two concert solos, and piano and harmonica were played by Messrs. Thompson and Frew. Three Irish dances were put on by Sonia and her troupe, who brought a close with the singing of the "National Anthem."

SCHOOLS WITH NO AGE LIMIT

Hope For B.C. in Near Future, Says Minister of Education

British Columbia hopes in the not too far distant future to raise the limit completely off so-called "free education" in the province, Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, explained in the House yesterday when the Public Schools Act amendment raising the limit from fifteen to eighteen years was under consideration in committee.

E. E. Winch, C.C.F. Burnaby, raised the point, recalling the minister had quoted other provinces as giving free education up to twenty-one years and wanted to know why British Columbia was lagging behind.

There are certain complications in the way at present," the minister said, "but this is a move in the right direction. It is hoped to eventually raise the age to twenty-one years and eventually lift the limit completely."

The bill was completed and is now ready for third reading.

Third reading was given by the House to Attorney-General Sloan's measures amending the Conditional Sales Act and the Jury Act.

Minor amendments to the Horse-breeding Registration Act and Lian Act, and the Stock Brand Act were committed.

U.S. President Denies Possi- bility of Unlimited Move as Planned in Bonus Bill

By Sam Robertson, Canadian Press
Staff Writer
New York, March 15.—Anyone who believes the United States would soon be teetering on the highroad of inflation has the word of President Roosevelt such is not his purpose.

He met newspapermen in Washington yesterday and figuratively ground the idea of uncontrolled inflation into the polished floor of the White House. A few hours previously an unbridled House of Representatives had approved the means of turning $2,400,000,000 off the printing press for a bonus payment to war veterans.

The sincerity of the representatives was a matter of conjecture.

Meeting of governmental running expenses with flat money was classed by Mr. Roosevelt as uncontrolled inflation. It is his announced intention to veto the bonus payment should the Senate take the same action as the House. The latter seemed highly improbable.

The President looks on the bonus as striking at the core of his long-range economy programme, aimed at shattering the current government deficit. But despite his plea that such a major outlay must not be considered at this time, some six score of his own Democratic representatives fled the party traces Tuesday and sent the bonus bill to conference with the Senate.

The general editorial opinion of the press, Republican and Democratic alike, was that the "aye-men" had eyes on the goodwill of the country's 3,500,000 veterans and their relatives. Next November the full membership of the House and one-third that of the Senate goes to the polls.

San Francisco, March 15.—The dynamite, which spread death and damage at the El Salvador port of La Libertad yesterday, as it exploded, was loaded in the steamship Santa Catalina here prior to the vessel's sailing on January 15.

It was packed in 250 boxes and consigned to La Libertad for use in the mines of the Central American Republic.

Mr. King declared the people of Canada were opposed to titles. Defending the government's stand in naming several Canadian officers for honours at New Year, Mr. Bennett told the House the conferment of honours was one of the earliest acts of governments of which there was any record. The bestowal of titles, he claimed, did not create class distinctions.

In the vote on the resolution, the biggest vote of the session, with pairs unrecognized, the government had one of the smallest, if not the smallest majority since it came to office in 1930. Conservatives have a working majority of thirty over all parties in the House with one vacancy.

It was the first time in recent years the House of Commons ever divided along political lines on titles.

Besides Sir Eugene Flax, former Deputy Minister of the Interior, Sir George Perley, a member of the Cabinet without portfolio, supported titles. Both knights in the chamber voted against the resolution.

Mr. Mitchell, who moved the resolution, in Labor member for Hamilton East, Ont.

He did not believe, said Mr. King, interested in listening to a definite debate on the restoration of titles. What the country wished to know was what the House of Commons thought about the matter. He hoped, therefore, that the government would vote the House an opportunity to vote on it.

Apparently Mr. Bennett was determined the House of Commons should not record its views on the question. He was so determined, said Mr. King, because he knew the people of Canada from one end to the other were opposed to titles.

So far as Canada was concerned, he felt the country was definitely opposed to titles, said Mr. King.

MISS MACPAIL SPEAKS
Canadians were against titles and that was a good reason why the Sovereign should not grant them.

Miss Agnes MacPail, Progressive, Southeast Grey, Ont., said.

An amendment to the resolution was moved by E. J. Garland, U.F.A., Bow River, eliminating "honors and awards."

The action of the government in recommending titles, Mr. Garland said, was raising up a social class distinction which the people of Canada did not want. Who would recommend the Prime Minister for a title? He perhaps knew himself better than anyone else.

The restoration of titles was bringing back the "reservoir of campaign funds" such as had been a stigma in British politics," he said.

BURNS QUOTED
Mr. Garland quoted from the Scottish poet, Burns:

"The rank is but the guinea's stamp." And other passages in support of the anti-title move.

"Burns knew his lords," said Mr. Garland. He declared he and Mr. Burns came from countries where titles were a curse.

On an unrecorded division, Mr. Garland's motion was defeated.

SPOTTON'S VIEWS
"Big men have refused titles and little men should not be given them," declared Mr. Spotton, Conservative, North Huron, Ont., in announcing his difference with his party leaders.

PREMIER SPEAKS
Premier Bennett defended particularly the granting of honors to women doing social work and public servants with long records of faithful work behind them.

The resolution, said the Prime Minister, replying to Mr. Mitchell, was that the House advise the Prime Minister that he should do the constitutional rule was for the House to condemn the Prime Minister's action and not to give counsel to him by a vote of the chamber.

If the House sought to criticize the Prime Minister's act it could move and approve a vote of want of con-

"We'll meet parents half way in these difficult times"—says a member of the dental profession

Take your child to the dentist with that $3 you save on LISTERINE TOOTH PASTE

With times as they are, do you feel that you cannot afford to have the children visit the dentist?

Take care! To postpone these periodic examinations may be false economy—a "saving" which will cost your children dearly in the years to come.

Heed the suggestion which a dentist made the other day. "Advise parents," he said, "that they use the $3 saved on Listerine Tooth Paste to toward dental work for the youngsters."

We gladly pass on the thought. Although $3 may not seem a large sum, this member of the profession says that it is enough to get work started. There is hardly a dentist, he believes, but will meet you half way in order to give your children's teeth the care they need.

Think it over. Start buying Lis-terine Tooth Paste for the whole family. You can hardly find an easier or more sensible way to economize. Thousands have already done so.

When you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ or less you are getting as fine a formula as exists. The flavor is one children like. The modern polishing agent removes film and stains with more than average speed. Less brushing is required, yet Listerine Tooth Paste is entirely safe.

Once you begin using this modern dentifrice, you will be repaid almost immediately with brighter, more attractive teeth... healthier gums... a purer breath. And the $3 each member of the family saves annually, on the basis of a tube a month may well be used as the dentist suggests. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, Toronto, Ont.

The Calgary Sea Cadets took the Halcyon Shield for large junior units. Altogether Canada gets 37 units in the honors list of the best 100 units in the empire.

The Cameron Cadets of Winnipeg rank at the top, the Hamilton College, sixth; Woodbridge, seventh; Calgary Sea Cadets, tenth; the Michigan Gun Cycles of Winnipeg, twenty-fourth; Winnipeg Light Infantry Cadets, fifty-first; Wayne Alta, sixty-ninth; Sixth Field Cadets of Vancouver, seventeenth; Vancouver Technical School, seventeenth, an Rainbow Sea Cadets, Victoria, eighty-eighth.

THE VOTE
One by one, Conservatives and Progressives took the floor for ten fifteen-minute intervals. At 5:30 p.m. the floor was raised and the division bells sounded throughout the corridors. The whips rounded up lagging members, while off-key renditions of old-time songs echoed from the Chamber. Ten minutes later the Mitchell motion had been defeated by nineteen votes.

NO NEW ONE-MAN MILITARY CONTROL

Canadian Press
London, March 15.—Close examination and considerable study on the question had shown that instead of consolidating the defence services under one chief, Britain was obliged to increase departments and cabinet ministers, the House of Lords was told yesterday evening by the Marquess of Londonderry, Air Minister.

Replying to a motion urging improvement of the present system by establishment of a single ministry of defence, Lord Londonderry said no one man was sufficiently equipped, mentally or physically, to carry out the intricate and manifold duties connected with the land, sea and air forces.

Neither economy nor efficiency would be promoted by overcentralization, Lord Londonderry said. To anyone who examined the work of the Supreme Council in the Great War the idea of one-man control, no matter how competent or industrious that man might be, was fantastic, he added.

WIRE DUTY APPLICATION

Ottawa, March 15 (Canadian Press).—After hearing the argument of representatives of the West Canada Company of Canada in opposition, the Tariff Board had today taken under advisement an application from a group of wire fence manufacturers for a revision of the duties on wire.

IRISH BOUNTY ON LANGUAGE

Valera Government to Pay Parents Who Ban English From Homes

By Joseph Denningan
Canadian Press Correspondent
Dublin, March 15.—To discourage use of the English language in the native Irish speaking areas of the west and south the Free State government has decided to provide for payment of an annual bounty of $10 to parents in respect of each child under the age of sixteen.

Only parents who can produce evidence from local clergymen and school inspectors that the use of the English language is completely prohibited in their homes will receive Eamon de Valera's bounties. It is also stipulated the children should be diligent attendants at the schools where Irish is the language of instruction.

The Department of Education feared the deaths of the older native Irish speakers would inflict a severe blow on the language revival and that districts would be "corrupted" by the visits of purely English-speaking tourists.

In the "Gaeltacht," as the districts are called, the inhabitants for the most part are out of a livelihood fishing and gathering kelp from the sea, although they are very poor their families are the largest in the country.

Ex-Kaiser May Go To German Castle

Associated Press
London, March 15.—The customary secrecy about everything connected with the household of former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany was held responsible today for the variation in versions of his reported imminent return to his fatherland.

Confirming the straitened circumstances of the royal exile, The London Daily Mail's Bonn correspondent said much of his enormous capital was invested in the United States and England, and the fall of the dollar and the pound sterling coupled with general decrease of dividends had affected him seriously.

The ban on export of German money caused additional trouble, it was said.

Alluding to the possibility of the ex-emperor's return, the correspondent recalled the Homburg castle in the sole place in the Reich where he is entitled to reside without interference.

QUESTIONS ON FEDERAL WORKS

Prairie Governments Ask When Ottawa Expects to Make Announcement

Canadian Press
Calgary, March 15.—The Dominion Government has been asked by the prairie administrations whether it intends to make an announcement on the proposed 1934 unemployment relief works programme. Premier J. E. Davidson yesterday. It had been stated the Dominion would inaugurate a works programme by April 1, but no definite word has been received from Ottawa.

Russians Send Aloft Bag Which Bursts and Instruments Float Back to Earth on Parachute

By Stanley P. Richardson, Associated Press Foreign Staff
Leningrad, U.S.S.R., March 15.—Russian scientists have inaugurated an experiment in stratosphere flights by sending aloft an "automatic" balloon which burst by pre-arrangement at a height of 18,000 metres (about ten miles) and released scientific instruments attached to it.

Without a human crew, the balloon, consisting of one envelope containing a small quantity of hydrogen and carrying an automatic wireless recording device and other instruments, was sent up.

Hourly wireless reports showed the bag reached its maximum altitude two hours after being released. At 18,000 metres the temperature was 33 degrees below zero centigrade.

Thereupon the balloon burst, according to schedule, and automatically released a parachute which carried the instruments to earth.

Reports yesterday said there had landed safely, possibly somewhere in Finland since wind was blowing in that direction at the time of the ascent.

Scientists announced that the test—which probably is the forerunner of further actual invasions of the stratosphere without the necessity of carrying a human crew—will be extended by sending aloft another "automatic" stratosphere balloon, carrying instruments to take up to previously unexplored heights.

JAIL SENTENCE WITH WHIPPING

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 15.—Alex Martin, a 25-year-old man, pleaded guilty in police court to attempted robbery with violence, was sentenced yesterday to six months in jail with a whipping of ten strokes of the strap.

Armed with a toy pistol and a blackjack the man entered the Burrard Street laundry of Gin Yee on March 3 and attempted to hold up the proprietor, Gin Yee resisted and was slugged over the head and badly injured, but managed to raise an outcry. The men fled, but pedestrians chased them until they could be picked up by the police.

In extension of their crime the convicted men told Magistrate W. M. McKay that they were unable to obtain relief and were starving when they committed the offence. Police officers declared the men had every appearance of being weak from hunger when arrested and ate reverently in the jail mess-room.

The magistrate said he was considering this in not giving them a longer prison term.

Toronto, March 15.—D. M. Lebourdais, general secretary of the Ontario Association of C.C.F. Clubs, yesterday announced the resignation of the organization's president, Capt. Elmore Philpott, had been accepted.

MEDICAL RELIEF PLAN DEBATED

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 15.—Brief consideration of a resolution calling on the government to consider free periodic medical examination and medical relief was given in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

The motion was moved by Dr. J. P. Howden, Liberal, St. Boniface, Manitoba.

There was in Canada a large class of persons on moderate salaries or wages who, while anxious to pay for medical services, found themselves unable to do so in the case of protracted illness, said Dr. Howden. This class comprised by far the largest number of individuals in the country.

BENNETT EXPLAINS WHEAT BUYING

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 15.—Use of the term "government purchases" is held by Prime Minister R. Bennett to be inaccurate in describing efforts of the government toward stabilizing the wheat market. While it has been generally applied and was used in the Prime Minister's statement Tuesday in the House of Commons, Mr. Bennett explained no actual purchases have been made by the government.

"What the government has done," the Prime Minister said, "is to guarantee the obligations created by the purchase of wheat, namely, the pool agency at Winnipeg."

Commons Will Hear Views of Premier Now That U.S. Senate Has Rejected Proposed Treaty

Ottawa, March 15.—The Parliament of Canada will not be called on to deal with the St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty at this session, now that the United States Senate has declined to ratify it.

This is the generally accepted view in official circles here. Premier Bennett will likely make a statement in the House of Commons within a day or two and pending that no indication of the government's reaction to the decision of the United States Senate will be available.

The suggestion from Washington that Canada might build a canal system without the co-operation of the United States seems to be somewhat of a surprise here. It is not regarded as within the bounds of possibility for the immediate future.

New York, March 15.—No editorial tears were shed today by New York's major morning papers over the refusal of the United States Senate yesterday to ratify the St. Lawrence Seaway Treaty. Neither is President Roosevelt's expressed fear that Canada might go ahead alone with the ambitious plan shared by the commentators.

The New York Times says official regrets might be expressed that Washington has refused to co-operate with Ottawa, but it will not be long. We suspect, before people on both sides of the border will settle down to the conviction that they are well rid of an ambitious plan which may be justified after a decade or more, but was not now.

The Herald-Tribune recalls the Roosevelt promise yesterday to re-submit the treaty because he is certain the seaway is a natural development and adds:

"But if it really is a natural development then there is no harm in waiting; while one suspects that if an all-Canadian canal is the only thing to fear, then we can wait a long time."

Vancouver, March 15.—Grain exporters in British Columbia would not be particularly affected by the operation of the proposed St. Lawrence Waterway and for that reason they were not vitally concerned over the United States Senate's rejection yesterday of the waterways treaty.

C. T. Hill, president of the Lake Shippers' Association, however, remarked existing lake tonnage was quite sufficient to take care of all waterborne traffic on the Great Lakes for the present and for some years to come.

Ken C. Burns of Burns Brothers, livestock exporters, considered the defeat "unfortunate." He was not prepared to say what effect it would have on livestock exports from Canada.

Brig.-Gen. R. W. Paterson, president of the On-to-the-Bay Association, said: "I am very much disappointed." He emphasized there was no conflict between supporters of the Hudson Bay Railway route and of the St. Lawrence deepening project.

Washington, March 15.—D. W. Hoan, mayor of Milwaukee and president of the Great Lakes Harbors Association, issued a statement today saying the defeat of the St. Lawrence Waterways Treaty with Canada in the United States Senate yesterday was "a bad piece of news to the 45,000,000 people who inhabit the lake area states, but to those of us who have been in the forefront of the battle it is but a temporary setback in a fight that must and will end in complete victory."

Legion Names New President

Brig.-Gen. A. Ross Elected Head of Dominion Veterans' Body

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 15.—The policy of the Canadian Legion should be one of refusing to allow itself to be stampeded into premature action, Brigadier-General Alexander Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Yorkton, Sask., told the fifth convention of that association here yesterday evening.

The new president paid tribute to Major J. S. Roper, M.C., of Halifax, who had piloted the Legion for three years and a half.

"I shall have leisure to devote to the work within reasonable bounds," said General Ross. "I have had eight years' experience and that experience I shall bring to my office. But I cannot do the job unless I get the support of everyone. Give me a fair chance and we shall see if it produces results."

An earnest plea to prosecute the great objectives of the association was voiced by Col. W. W. Foster, C.M.G., of Vancouver, who was elected first vice-president.

GRAND PRESIDENT
The election of Lieut.-General Sir Percy Lake of Victoria, B.C., to the post of grand president was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the delegates. Sir Percy, who is in his seventy-ninth year, was greeted with the chorus, "Old Soldiers Never Die."

In response, the distinguished veteran expressed the hope he might not "fade away prematurely."

As grand president Sir Percy succeeds the late Gen. Sir Arthur Currie. A. E. Moore of Winnipeg was re-elected Dominion chairman, with the office of Dominion vice-chairman going to E. W. Cornell, London, Ont. The new Dominion treasurer is Major Milton F. Gregg, V.C., M.C., who succeeds J. A. McIsaac of Ottawa.

M.P.'S WARMLY DISCUSS BILL

Ottawa, March 15.—The translation bill, which had a stormy first and second reading in the House of Commons precipitated a warm discussion when it came before the civil service committee yesterday, ending with the withdrawal of E. R. E. Chevrier, Liberal, Ottawa. Mr. Chevrier led a request by Liberal members of the committee for the fight to call certain witnesses whose opinions had been quoted by Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, when the bill was on second reading.

Mr. Cahan, after taking the stand there was no reason for the calling of such witnesses, also left the meeting.

The point was left to be decided at the committee's session to-day.

ST. LAWRENCE TREATY REJECTED

IT WAS A FOREGONE CONCLUSION that the St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty would be subjected to rough handling in the United States Senate, and it is not in the least surprising that it failed to induce the necessary two-thirds vote to support ratification. Forty-six members of the upper chamber voted in favor of the agreement and forty-two opposed it. Party lines were completely forgotten and were substituted by sectional interests. Of the forty-six Senators who favored the passage of the treaty there were thirty-one Democrats and fourteen Republicans, while the lone Farmer-Labor member of the Senate joined them. The opposition vote was recorded by twenty-two Democrats and twenty Republicans. Incidentally, this is the first major legislative setback the Roosevelt government has sustained since it took office.

Mr. Roosevelt had sent two communications to the Senate urging ratification because he saw in the launching of this project a means of putting a large number of men to work for several years, added to which, of course, would be the opening up of vast interiors in the United States—this applies equally to Canada—to ocean commerce. Nor does he propose to consider the scheme defeated by yesterday's vote; indeed, he already has announced that he will send the treaty back for reconsideration when there is time. It may or may not meet with a different fate on the next occasion. A good deal of opposition will have to be overcome if the decision is to be reversed.

This proposal to deepen the St. Lawrence is many years old and opinion as to its economic feasibility is sharply divided in Canada and the United States. Both countries committed themselves to the principle when their respective signatures were attached to the treaty some time ago. Most of the negotiations between the Ottawa and Washington governments which preceded the drawing up and signing of the agreement were carried on when economic conditions were a great deal different in both countries from what they are now. As far as Canada is concerned, even if the United States Senate had ratified the treaty yesterday, she has too many pressing problems awaiting solution to divert official attention to a project for which she will be unable to find the money for some considerable time to come.

We do not know whether President Roosevelt was serious when he said he was afraid if the pact was rejected by the Senate Canada would go ahead on her own and dominate all the advantages which might accrue from the completed scheme. He knows, however, that for some months past the interest of the government at Ottawa in it has been far from lively. Premier Bennett had announced that he would not consider bringing the treaty before Parliament for ratification until he knew what the United States Senate decided to do about it. While it may be taken for granted the matter will be discussed, it is hardly likely that any definite action will be taken by this country.

INTERNATIONAL BOURBONISM

THE NEWS OF THE LAST FORTY-eight hours contains dispatches from various points of the compass which would seem to indicate that at the end of more than two years of work in the cause of disarmament practically all the nations of the world are either indulging in or are about to indulge in a new orgy of armament building—with close observers of international developments in Europe and the Orient predicting more armed conflict within a very short time.

We are told that France has prepared a note rejecting a despairing last attempt of Great Britain to reach a disarmament agreement on the present basis; but is expected to submit a scheme of her own for consideration. She does not propose to countenance the rearming of Germany—and there is a great deal of sympathy with the French attitude. Germany, on the other hand, continues to demand equality in the matter of armaments and generally refuses to be dictated to. France is firmly convinced that her ancient foe is arming fast and furiously.

In the Oriental sphere Japan and Russia are still glaring at each other, while an "incident" in Manchukuo, the forced landing in that puppet state of a Soviet airplane, is to be made the subject of an official protest and demand for an explanation. The attitude to be taken up by Tokyo is that the "incident" was a "violation of Manchukuo territory," while a Japanese War Office spokesman declared that the Japanese army was "unable to remain indifferent."

In addition to this comes a dispatch from Tokyo telling us that Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, commander of the Japanese combined fleet, blames the Tomozuru tragedy upon naval treaties to which Japan is a signatory. Interviewed by the newspaper Asahi, aboard the flagship Kongo Maru, in the harbor of Wakayama, he said: "Japan has been compelled to build ships of the Tomozuru type on account of treaty restrictions. We must demand abandonment of the ratio system of naval limitation and insist upon armaments and equality."

As propaganda for a bigger navy for Japan the Suetsugu statement is singularly lacking in adroitness. It amounts to an announcement to the rest of the world that Japanese naval architects have employed all their ingenuity to violate as much as possible the spirit of Japan's treaty undertakings while technically observing them in the letter. The scheme already has been attended by disastrous consequences.

While all the other more powerful nations seem to have forgotten the lessons of the Great War, its utter futility and cost in human lives and treasure, and have entered a new armament race, it was only natural that Great Britain—the nation which alone set a practical example in armament reduction—should take stock of her position anew. She had allowed herself to drop to fifth place in fighting strength in the air. This condition she proposes to change by the addition of four more squadrons of the latest type of aircraft. As far as the navy is concerned, she has not built up to what the London treaty permitted. The estimates for the navy this year, however, provide for an increase of approximately $15,000,000 over those of last year. This is what Sir Roger Keyes, newly-elected Conservative member of Parliament for North Portsmouth, said in the House of Commons:

I trust the National Government will move forward and build all the ships we are allowed under the terms of the treaty, and that, at the first favorable moment, it will release the navy from the tolls of the London treaty.

The United States also has decided that its forces must be increased. A very substantial navy building programme has been authorized and there is now a demand for a complete overhauling of her naval and military aircraft. If our neighbor on the south of us really wanted to spend the money she could, of course, lead the world in armaments. That we believe is far from what she desires; but she, like Britain, feels she can not ignore the unfortunate trend of events.

It may be that so much is being said about war and about the supposed necessity for greater supplies of defensive material—it is always called defensive—that the extensive publicity given to it will defeat the object of the warmongers and the armament trust. The peoples of the world may suddenly realize that there is a new danger of them being offered up again as sacrifices on the altar of Mars. Governments ought to realize whether they are drifting.

LORD CALGARY?

YESTERDAY'S VOTE ON THE TITLES question in the House of Commons at Ottawa is an indication that the government over which Mr. Bennett presides agrees with him that a decision of the Parliament of 1919 does not bind the Parliament of 1934 in this regard.

It will be recalled that the Prime Minister made a statement in the Commons last year to this effect, and followed it up by the recommendation of several Canadians for inclusion in the New Year's honors list. There never has been any criticism, nor could there be, of those recommendations. The recipients had merited the distinctions which were conferred upon them. But Canada's elected representatives said in 1919, reaffirming their decision afterwards, that the Canadian people would be glad if the King would not confer any more titles on Canadians. Ninety-four members of the House yesterday stuck to their guns in support of that policy—but the motion to prohibit the custom which was revived last year by the Prime Minister was lost by nineteen votes. The government forces, it would seem, were well organized.

All this, of course, is suggestive of certain political developments which may occur before the present session of Parliament terminates. Does it mean, for instance, that Premier Bennett is about to decide that the job he undertook in 1930, when he promised to end unemployment or perish in the attempt, is too much for him? Is it possible that he intends to relinquish his important duties and advise the Governor-General to call upon, say, Mr. Rhodes or Mr. Stevens to reorganize the cabinet and then suggest dissolution of Parliament reasonably well ahead of the King's birthday on June 3?

In that case, of course, it would be either Premier Rhodes or Premier Stevens who would carry out the necessary formalities in keeping with yesterday's decision of the House—and suggest that the title of Lord Calgary would be a fitting distinction to confer upon Mr. Bennett as a reward for what he has done—or has not done, as the case may be—for Canada since he assumed the Premiership of the country in the summer of 1930.

It is quite possible that Mr. Bennett has no particular desire to follow in the footsteps of Lord Beaverbrook and leave his native Canada to take his seat in the red chamber at Westminster. Then again, it is difficult to believe that when he made his famous pronouncement on titles last year it was only for the reason that he desired to recommend some Canadians for distinction about whose merits for which there could be no question.

There may, however, be some trouble about making a decision as to whether Mr. Rhodes or Mr. Stevens should be given the opportunity, if there shall be any opportunity created, of making the formal recommendation of birthday honors to the King. It will be remembered that when the Prime Minister decided to take Mr. Rhodes with him to the World Economic Conference in London the suggestion was made that Mr. Stevens was not too well pleased. Mr. Stevens is in the limelight just now—which may be significant of coming events casting their shadows before.

But an important point which no doubt is in the back of Mr. Bennett's mind is that unless any honor arrangement for himself shall be made before the next federal election, he may never enter the portal of St. Stephens to join his brother Beaverbrook—indeed, he may remain plain Mr. Bennett, just as did Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Bonar Law, and, so far, Mr. Lloyd George.

GOOD SPORTS
The Boston Post

Up on the Maine border recently a poacher was operating with considerable skill. He shifted from one side of the international boundary to the other. Time and time again he eluded the Maine game warden and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

A rivalry grew between these two forces. Each wanted to be the first to get their man. Despite the tradition of the Mounties, the Maine warden won out and arrested the fellow. Were the Mounted Police jealous of their success? On the contrary, they offered congratulations and were willing to send witnesses to aid the warden at the trial. They showed themselves good sports.

Across the Bay

There is no shouting, as in the old days, when we get down to the core of things—Mr. Connell is only sorrowful—Mr. Pattullo is not in the least annoyed—but promises us something big soon—and is given a vote of confidence.

By H. B. W.

CORE

THE HOUSE BROKE to get down to the core of things on Wednesday, down to Work and Wages and the government's election pledges and other matters which everyone has been thinking about but which, up to now, no one has been impetuous enough to mention.

But even when this new House is getting down to the core of things and flinging challenges in the teeth of the government, even when the government is flinging back defiance in the teeth of the opposition, it is different from any House we have ever known. No one seems to get angry over the government's outrageous delay or the calculating treachery of the opposition, as we always used to do. No one paws the air. No one even raises his voice. Why, Mr. Pattullo, who used to eat fire like a volcano in the last House, talks to the C.C.F. as if he were reproving a little child for throwing stones.

Still, the core of things was quite visible all day. The government was being asked to make good its pledges, and the government was replying boldly that its pledges would be made good and that soon. Yes, all day we hovered on the verge of something important and exciting, the shape of which we could not see, yet, and went home feeling that perhaps, after all, there is a rabbit to be pulled out of the hat.

BLASTED HOPES

MR. CONNELL BROUGHT us to the core of things with another of his quiet, friendly but reproving speeches—no air pawing, no wild indignation, nothing but regrets and sorrow for the government. He merely observed that, innocent as he was of politics, he had actually expected that Liberalism's New Deal might mean something, but after listening to Mr. Hart's budget he had realized his mistake.

True, said Mr. Connell, the government's position was difficult but, he added without rancor, the government must have realized these difficulties before it made its promises and got itself elected. So far as Mr. Connell could see the New Liberalism wasn't very different from the Old and reminded him, as a naturalist, of a certain kind of caterpillar which, if placed on the rim of a flower pot, will go around and around for days until it dies of exhaustion, whereas the C.C.F. proposed to go around, but in ascending spirals. At which some Godless Liberalism-hater, who, as he suspected, the C.C.F. proposed to go up in the air.

Finally, Mr. Connell concluded that the government, elected specifically on the Work and Wages cry, was really more interested in bondholders than in the people, and he moved his want-of-confidence motion, regretting that the budget had made no provision for giving jobs to the unemployed.

MORE TAXES

MR. WINCH, the younger, made a brief but penetrating little speech in which he accused Mr. Hart's refunding scheme as designed simply by extending the life of our debts, to hand them on to our children. He demanded higher taxes on large incomes and with elaborate figures which reflected long and patient research he sought to prove that there is a vast field of revenue awaiting the government there. Incidentally, Mr. Winch urged the government to start taxing the income of the Lieutenant-Governor, who is exempted by a statute which Mr. Winch would repeal immediately.

POLITICS

IT WAS AN UNUSUAL Mr. Pattullo who rose, with a smile, to reply. He had no bitterness in his heart for the C.C.F. or for anyone else. He evidently didn't even want to make a real speech, perhaps feeling a little weak after his recent spell in hospital. Instead of the excellent oration which he could have delivered he talked in a quiet, conversational and somewhat bantering tone to the C.C.F. "Mind you, he thought the C.C.F. 'being human like the rest of us' and having acquired some of the ways of the wicked political world already, was trying to play politics with its want-of-confidence motion, but he evidently expected that, from oppositions, and Mr. Pattullo knows all about oppositions."

Still bantering, he professed that his feelings were hurt by the suggestion that the government had been elected on Work and Wages, for he had imagined that it had been elected because the public were clamoring for his leadership at which everyone laughed, including Mr. Pattullo.

Without raising his voice, he told the C.C.F. and the people of British Columbia that he stood by his election pledges, that he stood by Work and Wages and that he was developing a programme of this sort even now, which would be produced before the House rose. And if satisfactory financial arrangements couldn't be made through the federal government then "other ways and means" would be adopted. Here was a big promise, a definite commitment without reservation, a bold pledge without string, but it was made so quietly, so simply, that the public galleries didn't realize that Mr. Pattullo, of his own choice, was putting himself and his administration squarely on the spot.

All he asked was reasonable time, that Mr. Connell just wait a little while instead of becoming "excited and impetuous," which Mr. Connell had really shown no signs of becoming. Anyway, here was the core of things, the crucial point in this Legislature, the paramount issue, and the Premier, instead of evading it had chosen to clarify it and hold it clearly before the House.

Well, the want-of-confidence motion was turned down in a vote which held no surprises, except Mr. McGeer's support of the Opposition, if that was a surprise, and Mr. Anscombe's support of the Government, which certainly was.

KASLO

MR. LEARY, THE popular Liberal whip and a capable representative of Kaslo-Slocan, followed with an excellent speech, which shows that his economic thinking and powers of expression have greatly increased since he was here before. He delivered a pretty strong attack on Socialism and held that the 100,000 odd votes for the C.C.F. were not for such a system but a protest against present conditions, which, he admitted, were pretty bad. It was no wonder that the capitalist system was challenged, he said, when great monopolistic corporations were making huge returns out of the depression and nearly everybody else was losing everything. Therefore, at this very session and not in the vague future, the Legislature must advance on the road of drastic economic reform.

Mr. Swales of the C.C.F., who finished a heavy day, had gained extraordinary new confidence since his first modest speech. He showed himself a competent debater, argued that the Dominion and the province are both bankrupt and declared that the people would insist on Work and Wages. The Premier interjected that he would insist himself, but Mr. Swales was skeptical.

As Mr. McGeer adjourned the debate, evidently we are to have a little rousing, shocking and stimulating to-day instead of this peaceful air of brotherly love.

MARCH 15, 1909
(From The Times Files)

A new record was made on the Oak Bay links yesterday afternoon, when Harry Combe and Moffat, the professional in Victoria, defeated C. K. Magill, of Seattle, and Johnson, the Seattle professional. The match was a thirty-six-hole one, and went to the local players on a score of sixty-three, which is said to be the best ever made of the links.

Yesterday was the biggest day of the season at Spanish Arm, local anglers all bringing back some fish and many of them getting large baskets. The largest catch reported was that of Fredin Brothers, who caught about fifty fish between them. Fred White and his companion took eighteen.

Mr. Ernest Hall and Mrs. Hall reached home on Saturday, after a rather prolonged tour extending over a number of weeks. At Stanford University the doctor addressed 1,500 students at the request of Dr. Jordan.

Frank Baylis had no difficulty in beating McKay and Casey in a five mile relay race at Oak Bay on Saturday afternoon. Baylis beat McKay, who took the first two and one-half miles by almost a lap, being one-third of a mile. Casey was unable to make up the loss, although he started out hard, and after four laps

Baylis commenced to increase the lead on his opponent.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALENE MICHAELIS

SHE LOVED TO LAUGH. She loved to laugh and, somehow, she loved others to a sense of glee. And many found her sense of humor an unaccountable note of cheer in everything they heard or saw. It seemed some undiscovered vein which made dull things of every day almost her laughing, like and gay. She loved to laugh and when she came a flicker of a happy flame spoke swiftly up, re-echoing. As one bird's song makes others sing. She loved to laugh, and she loved to hear many a hurt, mends many a rift. She loved to laugh, and she loved to see other live her betterment.

THE RAT MENACE

To the Editor:—I read in a recent issue of The Times the remarks made by the medical officer of health to the effect that the number of rats in Victoria was increasing. It is a well-known fact that the rat is a very dangerous germ carrier. We hear at times some people complaining of the killing of a few birds by cats. I should like these people to try to imagine the state of affairs were it not for cats. We should be eaten out of our homes by rats and mice. In all the warehouses in London and other ports in England, where food and other goods are stored, a regular staff of cats is maintained as it has been proved that cats are far more effective than either traps or poison in keeping down the rats.

MR. WINCH'S SOCIALISM

To the Editor:—An attentive audience filled the Chamber of Commerce Hall to its capacity on last Monday night to hear the brilliant young member for Vancouver East deliver one of the best addresses on the subject of Socialism ever heard in B.C. or elsewhere for that matter. Even if not seeing eye to eye with the speaker as far as his subject went, it was truly a pleasure to hear his forceful arguments and well-arranged array of facts delivered in terse vigorous and logical sentences with perfect clarity.

The principal subject of the speaker's address, an account of the causes leading up to and resulting in the idea of Socialism and an explanation of what Socialism means, was thoroughly thought out and brilliantly delivered. It seemed to be very little more than an elaboration of one of the best definitions of Socialism as he found in a few words, namely: "A doctrine and movement aiming at the collective organization of the community in the interests of the mass of the people by means of the common ownership and collective control of the means of production and exchange."

But it is the views and attitude of the speaker as a member of the House regarding the state of the province and the problems calling for solution, that are of more general interest than his speeches on Socialism. His weakness and that of his colleagues of the C.C.F.—the Opposition—seems to be so far, a proneness to deal in generalities. Too much aloofness and fault-finding, and a failure to advance what might be in their own opinion, constructive suggestions for rectifying the province from the state it is in.

The aims of Socialism as expressed in the above definition will probably be realized in the not distant future if the signs of the times can be read aright. But to think and argue that they can be brought about in B.C. at this day and date by one fell swoop is ridiculous.

It is probable that Mr. Harold Winch and the other C.C.F. members of the Opposition would accomplish far more by bowing down in the House of Commons, and if they can find any real bases for co-operation with the government, will speedily

Neglected Her Sight To Save Appearance

Many women dread the effect of eyeglasses on their appearance. They accept patient errors in vision, more or less serious; they passively accept excessive irritability, nervous fatigue, headaches (all the direct result of eyestrain), and the obvious indications, scowling, crow's feet, dark circles, etc. There are eyeglasses becoming to every face and appropriate to every occasion if women only know it. We know the type of glasses most becoming to long or short noses, mountings that give depth to the eyes, the inconspicuous frames to adapt to small features, a dozen such secrets.

VETERANS OF CLUB HONORED

Cochrane, K. Ferguson, M. McGregor, F. J. Sehl Died By Canadian Club

tribute to the service of four the veteran members of Victor's Men's Canadian Club, John Cochrane, Kenneth Ferguson,
M. McGregor and Frank J. Sehl, who died recently, was paid by Herbert Anscomb, newly-elected president of the club, at the annual meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

Between them, they have given almost a century of service to the club in their various capacities.
Mr. Cochrane is a charter member of the Victoria club, having joined in 1907. He became a member of the executive in 1914, occupied the president's chair in 1917, 1918, 1919 and 1920, and has been chairman of the speaker's committee since that date.
Mr. Ferguson became a member in 1911. Since 1914 he has been a member of the executive and has held the post of literary secretary. He was president during the 1927 and 1928
terms.
Mr. McGregor has been literary secretary since 1919. Three years after he joined the club.
Frank J. Sehl, present secretary, joined the club and became assistant to Frank J. Cochrane, first secretary, in 1909, holding that position until the end of 1911. The following year he was named to the post he now fills.

DANGER SEEN IN C.C.F. PLAN

Kalso Liberal Points to Russia's Large Army in Socialistic State

Charging that the C.C.F. was out to exploit the serious condition of affairs to serve their own ends, and advocating a gradual change under Liberal policies rather than the "dangerous short-cut" advocated by the C.C.F.,
Capt. C. S. Leary, Liberal, Kaslo-Sioux, opened the budget debate from the government side of the Legislature yesterday.
He made special reference to the fact that Russia needed the largest standing army in the world to maintain its socialistic order, despite the socialistic talks for peace.
"The Tories," he said, "stand for government by capital. The Liberals believe government must control capital and that is why I pin my faith in Liberalism."
In dealing with matters affecting his own riding, he mentioned the former government's big expenditures to curb the Doukhobors.

Release of a hive of hornets, or the use of black-snake whips by a few belligerent provincial policemen would have saved the government thousands of dollars, he told the House.
Over 500 were sentenced to three-year terms, and several hundred children were taken care of by the province, costing large sums.
"Industry in the Kootenays," went on the speaker, "is facing a serious situation due to Doukhobor competition. Originally they came into this province to confine themselves to farming and were a self-contained community. Now they have gone afield and are in ruthless competition with businessmen of many years standing. In the past four years 110 government timber limits have been acquired by their people by bidding up the stumpage at ridiculous prices. They are enabled to do this by working for virtually nothing and by evading government returns on operations. They neither vote, fight, nor obey the laws of our country. Their standard of living is low and they wish to drag us down to that standard."

COST OF LIVING
Captain Leary told the House greater attention must be paid to the development of the southern interior which had and still was helping to build up coast cities. Gasoline in his district cost 10 cents a gallon more than on the coast and motorists had to contend with poor roads.
The cost of living in all lines was substantially higher, educational facilities were fewer, the people suffered lack of markets and the prairies was the only outlet for lumber, the United States market being shut out by high tariffs.
"Your coast cities," said the speaker, "can not prosper with its hinterland starved for markets, its people the victims of excessive prices for all commodities and no inducements offered to keep its virile youth at home."

MR. SWALES
R. B. Swales, the C.C.F. member for Delta, in speaking of the budget, said: "I must congratulate the Finance Minister on introducing us to the bankruptcy of the province, in the same way as the Minister of Finance will soon introduce us to the bankruptcy of the Dominion. And so we have a bankrupt province asking a bankrupt Dominion for help."
Deficits are not alone a product of the depression, he maintained.
British Columbia had quite a staggering debt long before the depression came along.
He described again, as he did in the Throne Speech, the condition of farmers in the province, and said his vivid picture of poverty drawn at that time was not exaggerated. He urged co-operative moves to help this class of people.
Mr. Swales mentioned the recent war pension cuts and said many of the men who had fought to protect their King and country were now in relief camps waiting for the provincial government to implement its promise of work and wages.

ROYALTY CUT ASKED
Capt. Leary advocated a substantial reduction in timber license fees and 50 per cent reduction, subsidy or rebate in personal property and school taxation. All costs of food supplies, both imported and domestic, gasoline, fuel oil, clothes, machinery and all necessary commodities purchased through wholesale houses should be pooled and all pay the same price, said the speaker.
People of the interior should not be penalized for settling in the great open spaces. They were entitled to the same consideration as those living on the coast.
The member believed per diem hospital grants should be restored to municipalities, and that the Workmen's Compensation Board should deal more generously with rural hospital cases. He urged zones be created in areas surrounding either municipal or rural hospitals, the work being done by such institutions justifi-fying everyone paying something into the general fund. Capt. Leary also thought action for damages against a hospital should be limited to a shorter time.
GAME BOARD
Capt. Leary would scrap the game board and place that function of government under the forest branch. The saving would amount to $100,000 annually, he told the House. He also urged bounties on cougars be restored.
The speaker urged a "Patriotic work and Wage Fund," contributed to by departmental stores, whole-salers, banks, service clubs, wealthy citizens, insurance, lumber, pulp, logging, oil, utility companies and large dividend paying mines with an objective of $10,000,000 to help put men back to work. The prairies need 200,000,000 feet of lumber for replacement purposes, he said, and this could be supplied by British Columbia mills on a quota basis, the government taking security on the lumber.

Fredericton, March 15 (Canadian Press)—Tragedy leading to the fatal shooting of Mrs. Gifford Jordan and the wounding of her husband at Barker's Point, near here, was unfolded to-day by their children, who told police the father had shot his wife early yesterday evening after a quarrel and then turned the weapon on himself. Jordan, aged sixty, was taken to a hospital here with a deep wound in his chin. A doctor said the injury was not serious. At that time no charge had been laid against him.
A coroner's inquest was set tentatively for to-night.

ANSCOMB NEW CLUB LEADER

Victoria M.P.P. and Former Mayor Elected President of Canadian Club

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P. for Victoria, former mayor of this city, one-time reeve of Oak Bay, and president of the Publicity Bureau, was elected president of the Men's Canadian Club at the annual meeting of that organization in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.
He succeeds W. T. Straith, who automatically becomes a member of the executive of the club.
Colonel H. T. Goodland was named first vice-president; Norman Yarrow, second vice-president; F. M. McGregor, literary secretary; F. J. Sehl, secretary, and P. B. Fowler, treasurer.
In addition to Mr. Straith, John Cochrane, Kenneth Ferguson, J. W.
Hudson, R. H. B. Ker, H. B. Hunter,
L. D. Getham and J. L. Dunlop were named to the executive.
George McCandless was elected auditor, and His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor J. Fordham Johnson, honorary president.

HERBERT ANSCOMB

Governor J. Fordham Johnson, honorary president.
His appreciation of the co-operation given him by the executive was expressed by Mr. Straith before retiring from the chair. He spoke of the work of the club and described in some detail the activities of the Regional Council, the organization of British Columbia Clubs, noting the assistance that body gave smaller clubs in the province.

BUILDS CITIZENS
Mr. Anscomb thanked the members for the honor they had conferred upon him and expressed his belief in the ability of the club to help in the forming of a high type of Canadian citizen.
The report of the treasurer, showing a cash balance of thirteen dollars at the end of the year, was read and adopted.

In his annual report, Mr. McGregor, literary secretary, announced the winners of the Canadian Club prizes for students taking major honors in city, Saanich, Oak Bay and Sidney public schools. He stated the awards would be made following the Easter holidays.
He referred to the presentation of the club's cash prize of $100 to John Parnell, who led Victoria College in the course for which the award is made last year.
Briefly he described successes of various winners of the latter award in preceding years and advocated the continuance of the club's policy in distributing prizes to school children.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemiclooking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a thriving, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Condensed JAD Salts in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a package of Condensed JAD Salts at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Note: If you are dieting to take off fat it is important that you keep your body free from weight-inducing waste matter and poisonous toxins. For this reason Condensed JAD Salts is a valuable aid to reducing.

The weekly meeting of St. Luke's Troop was held on Monday evening, with A.S.M. Phillip Salmon and Troop Leader Winston Silver in charge. The Owl Patrol won by a slight margin over the Pheasants in the evening's competition. The meeting was closed at 8 o'clock and was followed by a parents' meeting, at which the group committee, headed by Mrs. Silver and Major Hardinge, discussed an "old-time dance," to be held April 9 at St. Luke's Hall. Outdoor activities of the troop during the Easter holidays were also discussed. The concert on Friday last proved a great success and the troop wishes to thank all artists who contributed their talent, and Miss M. Holmes, Mrs. Silver and Major J. B. Hardinge for their co-operation.

CCF. STRIKES BIG INCOMES

Would Also Kill Act Exempting B.C. Lieut-Governors From Levy

Raise money in order to provide work and wages by increasing the income tax on high incomes earned by wealthy men of British Columbia. Harold E. Winch, C.C.F. Vancouver East, urged in the B. C. Legislature and in this connection he made direct call for the Finance Minister to amend the legislation which made Lieutenant-Governors of the province exempt from income tax.

An Act was passed in 1924 which exempted the incumbent of the office of Lieutenant-Governor from income tax, the C.C.F. member remarked. One of the wealthiest men in the province was exempt from income and personal property tax. The Finance Minister had power to institute legislation to make him liable for this taxation.

"Money" is here for taxation in order to give effect to work and wages," said Mr. Winch speaking of high salaries in general. "This government is interested in providing work and wages."

The speaker presented an analysis of income tax returns, claiming it revealed a marvelous field for taxation. They showed, he said, 113,564 received incomes of less than $5,000, 106,777 of them between $5,000 and $7,999, 6,787 between $8,000 and $9,999, 1,539 cases in the class up to $10,000. There were 280 between $10,000 and $24,999. That represented at the lowest minimum a total income of $3,000,000, and not only $3,000,000, but on that income only $78,490 was paid. Thirteen had incomes of $50,000 to $100,000, representing at least $650,000 and only $39,548 was paid on it. Four declared incomes over $100,000 and paid in all $34,436.

Mr. Winch said he noted everything else was taken care of in the budget, salaries for the civil servants, upkeep of buildings, interest of bondholders and traveling expenses for cabinet ministers. "It is interesting to note the traveling expenses of cabinet ministers and members of the civil servants," commented the speaker. "They are set at $250,000. I am unable to understand the deficits of the railway companies if this is a sample of what happens in all governments."

Ganges, March 15.—An enjoyable time was spent in the Burgoyne Bay schoolhouse last Friday evening, when a programme of music and singing, a playlet, entitled "The Vengeance of Anne," sale of needlework, home cooking and miscellaneous articles and a supper, arranged by the ladies of the United Church congregation of South Salt Spring, was held for the purpose of raising funds for the restoration of the church in the Burgoyne Valley.

Rev. W. H. Thompson explained the purposes of the entertainment. The articles contributing to the programme were Miss Dean, Mrs. J. W. Graham, the Misses Eileen Cearley and Muriel Rose, Miss Lorraine Wakelin, Kenneth Mollett, Miss B. Hamilton, Mrs. E. Wakelin, Mrs. Ronald Lee and Miss Dorothy Lee.

TELLS GROWTH OF VICTORIA

A. D. Crease Guest Speaker at Lady Douglas Chapter Anniversary

As part of the anniversary celebrations commemorating the arrival in Victoria of Richard Blanshard, first governor of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island, pioneers of the city and members of the Lady Douglas Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, gathered for luncheon in the Hudson's Bay Company yesterday to hear an address by A. D. Crease on the development of Victoria since the death of Sir James Douglas.

Mrs. Colin Cummins presided and in introducing Mr. Crease alluded to the fact that he was a grandson of Sir James Douglas.

In a brief speech, Mr. Crease sketched Victoria's growth, commencing immediately after Governor Douglas's death, when he lay in state and was viewed by hundreds who honored him for his great work. Mr. Crease then conducted his audience on an imaginary walk through the streets of the city, dealing with the changes that had taken place. He spoke of the industrial development and recalled from personal memory the progress of recent years which had resulted in establishing a thriving city.

Mr. Crease presented to the chapter a bouquet of five white lilies as a gift from St. Ann's Academy to commemorate the landing here in 1860 of the five sisters of St. Ann who were responsible for the establishing of their church in Victoria.

Highland from Lake Hill will be the guest speaker.

VICTORIA WEST

The regular meeting of the Victoria West Young People's Society was held in the church on Tuesday, the 13th inst. The devotional period was led by the president, Jack Price. The devotional period was led by the president, After the hymns G. Mitchell gave the prayer and Arthur Wright read the Scripture. A short talk was given by G. Miller, after which Don McCain, president of the Young People's Union, spoke for a few minutes concerning the conference to be held soon. The young people have planned a hike to Goldstream on Good Friday and the final arrangements will be made at the next meeting. The president chose other members to assist him, those chosen being Misses Doris Burrows and Patricia Caley, and Messrs. C. Milley and G. Mitchell. The next meeting will be a social and will be in charge of Mrs. Milley.

FIRST UNITED

The weekly meeting of the First United Young People's Society was held Monday night, taking the form of a St. Patrick's Social. There was an unusually large attendance. The meeting was in charge of Ken Simpson and Doug Balfour. The four groups of the department competed in the various games and interest ran high. Group Four coming out on top. After an hour of strenuous activity, the members rested, to be entertained by Miss Ivy Boles, who sang "My Wild Irish Rose" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Ernie Cox, the magician, gave a puzzling exhibition of tricks, giving much amusement to his very appreciative audience. After a sing-song, led by Fred Wornald, refreshments were served by the Misses Betty Milnes, Jean Rynick, Helen and Louise Marsh. After a short business session the meeting adjourned to the piano for another sing-song.

CLUB EXPECTS MORE SUPPORT

Greater Strength Anticipated By Canadian Club During 1934, Members Told

Optimistic signs of a return to membership strength of the Canadian Club here are seen by members of the executive, according to the annual report submitted to the general meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening by F. J. Sehl, secretary.

This view is taken following an expression of regret over conditions during 1933.

"Unmistakable signs, however, are not wanting that we are gradually entering into a period where the pinch of finances will not be quite so pronounced, and that members of this veteran and very necessary patriotic Canadian Club will again feel justified in taking advantage of the intellectual treats provided at our luncheons by excellent speakers on vital subjects affecting not only Canada, but the whole world," the report states in part.

The statement briefly refers to the thirteen meetings during the year and efforts made by the speakers' committee to secure other prominent men for addresses.

ATTENDANCE DOWN

Attendance figures, however, during 1933, were far below those the club executive desired. A big increase in the number attending such functions in 1934 is anticipated.

Mention was made of the opportunity for discussion of big questions in the Canadian Club.

Regarding membership, the report stated during 1933, a total of 389 paid fees, while 380 on the list did not.

Regret was expressed over the passing of several prominent Victorians during the year.

"Through lack of funds the presentation of prizes for Canadian History was not carried out during last

Miners Getting Ready To Leave

Cupid—as portrayed by the age-defying Fannie Ward in 1890, when she was—well, younger than she is now.

Gold diggers of 1898. This picture was taken in 1898 outside the present Department of Marine Building on Wharf Street. These men are seeking miners' licenses before embarking on the great adventure. Note the hack in the foreground and the dress of the lady about to enter it.

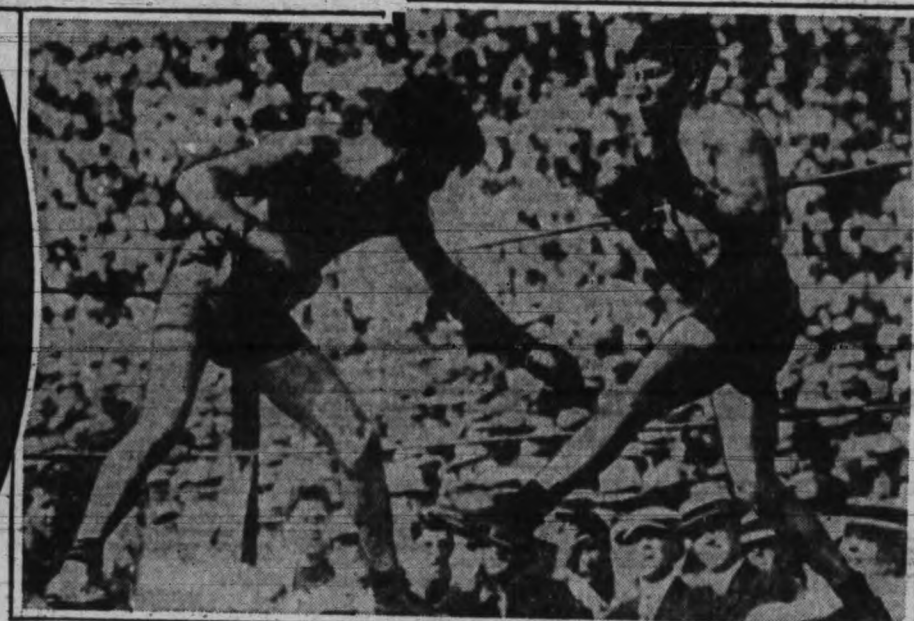

Here's a rare picture. It shows Sitting Bull standing up. Beside him, tolerantly sharing his grasp on a rifle, is Buffalo Bill (Col. W. F. Cody). After Sitting Bull, one of the last Indians to resist the white invader, was finally conquered, he traveled for a time with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. Sitting Bull was chief of the Sioux at Custer's massacre.

One of the greatest tragedies in the early history of Victoria occurred in 1896 when a span of the old Point Ellice bridge collapsed as a street car loaded with persons going to the sham battle at Macaulay Point was passing over it. Nearly two score of persons lost their lives. The above picture shows the broken bridge with the badly damaged street car in the foreground.

Unchallenged king of the sport of harness racing for many decades, Joe Rivers remained peerless in the field until after the World War. Here he is with his unfailing cigar and rakish cap as he looked in his later years.

The Fourth of July sun blazed down on the arena at Los Angeles in 1912 when this picture was made. Ad Wolcast, one of the great lightweight champions, has just made a stab at Joe Rivers, Mexican title contender. Joe steps back in time, but his face shows he has already stepped back too late on several blows. In the thirteenth round Wolcast knocked him out.

PLEA MADE FOR PEACE

Mobilization of Opinion
Against War Urged By E. J.
Tarr to Canadian Club

In the opinion of E. J. Tarr, K.C., L.L.D., of Winnipeg, humanity-to-day stands at the crossroads. It may follow the path of might, leading to war and chaos, or it may turn down the road to right, in the form of collective peace activity, leading to goodwill. It was problematical, he said in the course of his address to the Men's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday evening, whether or not world public opinion could be mobilized quickly enough to avert war which menaced the world in many quarters, particularly in the Far East and in Europe. But that course alone, he believed, could prevent the devastating effects on another great conflict.

Mr. Tarr spoke of the various countries with interests on the Pacific, mentioning Canada, the United States, Australia and New Zealand, all of which were interested in trade to a major degree. France, with Indo China, and Holland with the Dutch East, had similar interests.

He thought the growth of Japan as an organized state, with its military and industrial development, one of the chief disturbing influences in the region. The extension policies of Japan, modeled on those practised by former nations at an earlier date, were traced. The chief difference between Japan's activity in Manchuria and certain incidents in British history, he noted, lay in dates.

Russia's interest in the Pacific lay in her development of south-eastern Siberia, with its railway investments and other features.

The situation had been made more complicated at an early date with the accession, by the United States of the Philippines, he added.

CHINA'S MENACE

China's chief threat to peace on the Pacific lay in the opposite direction to that of other countries mentioned. Mr. Tarr said, noting the menace lay in its own disorganization, which left the huge country in the position of a prey for more advanced nations seeking markets.

Turning to the Manchurian front, he referred to that country's richness in resources and its comparative lack of population. It was only natural, the speaker said, that Japan should cast longing eyes at it.

He briefly sketched the incidents of the Russo-Japanese war of 1905, the presentation of Japan's twenty-one demands to China in 1915, indicating the state of friction which had developed.

He spoke of the Manchurian incident of 1931, outlining the manner in which Japan had broken the covenant of the League of Nations, the Kellogg Pact and the Nine Power Treaty in setting up the Manchukuo puppet state.

With such incidents occurring, was humanity falling back into the pre-war world on the doctrine that might was right, he asked?

He portrayed the outlook of a hypothetical Japanese militarist on present conditions. Such a person might believe increase in power proof of the superiority of his nation. He might also see no effective peace machinery to check his country's militaristic expansion. And in Russia he would find a threat in the country's strength.

Particularly might such a Japanese regard conflict with Russia inevitable, he declared. In answer to his own question, when would be the best time for Japan to attack Russia, he advanced two theories, one in favor of immediate action, which would catch the Soviets without the machinery of war on hand. Against this he pointed to the possibility of war in Europe, instigated by Germany, which might see Poland swing into line with Japan in an attack on Russia on two fronts. That was a deterrent against immediate aggression, Mr. Tarr believed.

EUROPEAN SITUATION

Turning to Europe itself, he remarked it was comparatively easy to explain Germany's reaction towards

By DONALD GRAY

A house is not a home until it is planted, but the way it is planted tells the story of the kind of people who live within.

Much of the foundation of a house is better unplanted than to be covered with the wrong kind of plants. The idea of planting a house is not to hide its foundation walls, but to make the house appear as if it grew out of the ground.

It is better to plant only a part of the foundation and leave some of it clear than to give the appearance that a piece of architecture is resting on a mass of foliage.

Unfortunately, much of our architecture is commonplace and similar to our neighbors'. By planting the surroundings with taste and in a different manner from everyone else's on the street, the house, regardless of its looks, will take on individuality.

Let us consider, for example, the typical Canadian small house with a front porch raised several steps off the surrounding grade. Many owners of such homes make the mistake of planting a row of some dwarf evergreens or low growing shrubs. The house becomes formal and monotonous to look at, and the planting serves no purpose. The planting usually represents the gardener as one who never raises his eyes very far off the ground. He never sees his entire house, but just a blank space under the porch door.

There is little advancement in this sort of planting from the day when a row of cannaes and elephant ears constituted the last word in the right thing to do.

On the other hand, the same type of home can be made more beautiful by sensible planting.

First, you can start with a frame for the house by planting two trees. These will give shade and soften the outlines.

Next some vines for over the porch. Such vines will take the place of awnings and give a pleasing effect.

The shrubs should be varieties that will grow high enough to screen a person sitting on the porch. Keep the type of plants simple and ones that will grow together so as to form a mass of foliage.

Flowering varieties are of less importance in the front planting than in the garden. If you can have good foliage plus bloom, then see that the bloom harmonizes with the color of the house.

Use white with red brick; red, pink or yellow with a white house.

Study the type of house you live in, frame it first, then plant shrubs in a simple way and the results will be effective.

Friday. Formal and informal gardens.

The wrong way, left, and the right way of "foundation planting" to make your home look as though it "grew" out of the ground. The planting at right does the trick. The method at left looks like an afterthought, and not a very good one at that.

the treatment of the major powers, the less dangerous.

Russia was a stabilizing factor in the European situation through non-aggression pacts, he said. Italy was not in a position to risk war until it had secured the alliance of a strong naval power to defend the vulnerable coast line, he added.

As one, world wide result of the Manchurian trouble, he saw the development of an outlook which regarded war without considering the possible power of the League of Nations which had not checked Japan. The loss of this objective for a collective peace system had produced a war world, Mr. Tarr said.

As far as Canada was concerned, he saw the possibility of this country splitting away from the British Empire if a major conflict arose. At all events a foreign war in which Britain was involved would cause a schism in the Dominion among those factions which stood for the support of the motherland under any conditions and those directly opposed to being dragged into another outbreak.

"So far as Canada is concerned, given a war world it is not inevitable that Canada would have to choose between her position in the British Empire and a geographic affiliation in North America," he declared.

Canada, he continued, had been too superficial in its attitude towards the League of Nations and collective peace movements. In his opinion the country should be prepared to make

Usury Is Not Healthy Usage

G. G. McGeer, K.C., Denounces Money-lenders of Modern Era

"One of the greatest contributing factors to the tragedy of modern times is the fallacy that usury is a normal and healthy practice," said G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P.P. for Vancouver-Burrard, in an address at the City Temple yesterday evening on "Central Banking."

"By usury I mean the lending of money for any amount of interest, whether reasonable or unreasonable," he explained.

Mr. McGeer made a strong plea for institution of a nationally managed and controlled credit to place the power of public financing in the place it rightfully belongs.

"Our world is richer to-day in resources and ability to produce an abundance of food and comforts than it has ever been before," he said. "And despite this great wealth and production capacity we find ourselves impotent to distribute it adequately and thousands are starving in the midst of plenty."

In the Bible, he said, usury was described as a crime comparable with murder, yet it was condoned to such an extent now that the mass usury had landed civilization in the same disastrous position as it would an individual who did business with a money lender.

"We have repudiated as impractical the teachings of the Bible and have worshipped gold, trying to serve both God and mammon at the same time, he declared.

The central bank bill now before the Ottawa House was the same as that enacted in England in 1946 to set up the Bank of England, and afforded the same power to a private institution to regulate currency and credit, he said.

trade and other sacrifices to further the cause of peace.

He also made a plea for the speedy development of a Department of External Affairs apart from its present status as a subsidiary consideration of the Premier.

The people of Canada, he added, should do all in their power to foster world opinion for peace.

The speaker was introduced by W. T. Straith, retiring president of the club, and thanked for his address by Herbert Anson, new president.

SWEEPSTAKE JURY OUT LATE

Morris Firm Acquitted of Managing, But Found Guilty of Selling Ticket

After the assize court jury two days before had acquitted Walter Hitecox, manager of E. A. Morris Limited of conducting and selling tickets in the Salmon's St. Leger horserace sweepstake, the prosecution renewed its move against the firm late yesterday afternoon by bringing it into court to face the same two charges.

At 9:50 o'clock yesterday evening, after being out three and one-half hours, the jury returned a verdict finding the firm not guilty on the first count of conducting the St. Leger sweepstake, but guilty of selling a ticket in it.

Sentence will be passed on the firm at the conclusion of the assizes.

F. C. Elliott, who had defended Mr. Hitecox in the former trial, protested when the trial of the firm was called that he did not know where he stood as regards the nature of the proceedings. He said that as the prosecution had not furnished him with the indictment, he did not know what he was called upon to face.

Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson ordered Mr. Elliott supplied with a copy of the indictment.

M. B. Jackson, K.C., prosecutor, produced the same police evidence of the raid conducted on the firm by the squad under Sgt. Bishop, and went through tickets, giving the names and addresses of a large number of local sweepstake players.

The jury retired at 8:25 o'clock after the judge had urged them as good citizens to see that the law was upheld, irrespective of their personal opinions on sweepstakes.

At 8:30 o'clock when the jury had failed to appear, Sheriff H. W. Goggin had a meal brought in and served to them in the jury room.

The jury which heard the case and rendered the verdict, consisted of: Ronald C. Nixon, foreman; Edmund D. Newbould, Austen B. G. Fane, John G. Grimston, Archie Tinker, Harry George King, Albert H. Olton, Elizabeth A. Jacklin, Minnie B. Foster and Annie F. Jane.

New York, March 15 (Canadian Press). — The New York Staats Zeitung in an editorial to-day denied allegations in the Paris newspaper Petit Parisien that "it is in the service of Germany." The Petit Parisien on Tuesday printed what its editors described as a copy of confidential directions to Nazi agents in which instructions for handling foreign newspapers and agencies were allegedly set forth.

Kimberley Heads Winners In Canadian Hockey Play-downs

THE SPARKS MIRROR

HEC has done it again, by heck. It is getting to be a habit with Clarence Sinclair "Red" Edmondson, this coaching basketball winners at the University of Washington. He has produced another winning five, champions of the Pacific Coast Conference. The Huskies won the title after a thrilling play-off series with the University of Southern California on the latter's floor. Washington won the championship of the northern division of the conference and U. of S. C. the southern half title. When the Huskies won the northern division it was Edmondson's sixth winner in eleven years. The Huskies also won the conference championship in 1931.

For fifteen years the tall, lean Edmondson has reigned over Washington's cage destinies, going to the Seattle institution from the University of Idaho. In 1924 he won his first title, and has been right up there ever since. His coaching system is effective simply because it gives his players fewer plays than any other big-time coach in the business. The success of the Washington game is drive, grab the ball at every chance, race it down the court within shooting range, pass there if you must, but shoot if you can. Of course, all credit for Washington's conference successes is not due to the coach. The boys come in for their share of it.

Heading this year's list of Washington basketballers is Bob Gale, a junior who, since his first year in the northern division of the conference, and who broke the all-time high point record of 173 points last season. Jack Hanover, his running mate, is forward, is another dead shot. The rest of his mates, captain Harold Lee, and Cook and Weber, guards, and Bishop and Wanger, centres, are all well schooled in the Edmondson system.

We are continually hearing of English football league clubs who are in desperate financial straits and may not be able to carry on. Following the announcement of Swansea's plight comes the announcement that Gateshead are in such a bad way that the club is expected to be dissolved for any of its players. Gates at Redheugh have slumped to an alarming degree during the last two months. Gateshead were formerly the South Shields Club, but they changed their name and ground in the season of 1930-31, owing to lack of support.

Rochdale, one of the Northern League, are once again facing a crisis. As a result of the poor season, the position has become acute, and the directors are not prepared to find any more money. A special meeting of the shareholders has been called to consider the position of the club and its future.

A similar meeting was held two years ago, when a number of funds enabled the club to continue in the league. They were also helped by the famous Lancashire comedian, Gracie Fields, who paid the expenses incurred by the club in some of their away matches.

Rochdale, who have had to apply for re-election twice in the last three seasons, are at the foot of the table. Their manager resigned a few weeks ago.

France has quite a bunch of registered athletes—140,000. They have got 140,000 athletes, 35,000 cyclists, and 40,000 tennis players. Italy has gone in surprisingly for rowing, and has 17,000 oarsmen now registered with the national athletic association. Italians also have 60,000 soccer men and 35,000 amateurs who race on bicycles. With the legs they are building up, no wonder they can turn out Luigi Secchi to win Olympic championships in the 1,500 metres run. And no wonder they only lose by inches in the rowing championships. In Germany, the Karlruhe section club shared men to make the Hitler salute when it played in Nancy and Metz, across the border. This was a political mistake, and now the football club cannot get permission to play in foreign countries for a year. And all the clubs in Baden have received orders never to speak in German, and to let in anything but German; never to use a word pertaining to their sport which is not German.

The problem of shorts for women lawn tennis players has been the Riviera. The controversy reached its climax at Nice when a prominent woman player appeared on the courts in a pair of dark blue shorts, which were so tight that they closely resembled a pair of bathing trunks. The player was called before the committee and told that in future, if she wanted to play in shorts, they must be white and loose-fitting. At least one Riviera club has banned shorts.

University Squad To Battle Fifth

The Fifth Brigade intermediate rugby squad will play an exhibition match with the University School on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the latter's grounds, Mount Talmie. The Fifth players will meet at the Armories at 2 o'clock to have their picture taken.

The Fifth team will be as follows: Lesson, McDonald, Andrews, Mason, Kirkbride, Langdon, Ferguson, Thorpe, Greville, Saunders, R. Gonsalves, Carney, MacLean, Grey, Sparks, Barker, Shepherd, Shanks.

B.C. Champions Defeat Luscar; To Meet Regina

Dynamiters Drop Second Game to Albertans 4 to 3 But Win Round 6 to 4

Moncton Hawks And McGill Win

CALGARY, March 15.—Winners of the inter-provincial play-downs between the senior hockey champions of Alberta and British Columbia, Kimberley Dynamiters were on their way to Regina to-day to continue their fight for the Allan Cup. Although the Kimberley club lost to Luscar Indians yesterday evening, 4 to 3, the B.C. titleholders took the two-game total-goal series, 6 to 4. Luscar was shut out, 3 to 0, in the first game here Monday.

Luscar's band of Redmen saw plenty of red yesterday evening—the red they were looking for in the first game and found on the Kimberley sweaters. But yesterday evening Kimberley played host here and as a result were forced to wear borrowed sweaters, white ones belonging to a Calgary commercial club, while Indians donned their own jerseys. Dynamiters' passing was not crippled so much as Luscar's was by the change of garb, but in their own uniforms the Alberta champs showed the form that brought them this province's title.

LUSCAR HAD EDGE Indians had the best of the play and for few minutes in the second game were within one goal of Dynamiters on the round score. But a string of penalties that left them short-handed proved too much, and before the period ended Dynamiters rang up two counters that blasted the Albertans' hopes of continuing in the race.

Ray Saunders, Luscar right winger, who was a standout performer during the series, notched two Luscar counters, Bob Kennedy and Lindsay Carver getting the others. Fred Botchy, Luscar's star, scored one for Kimberley.

Moncton Hawks, 1933 Allan Cup winners, to-day were sixty minutes away from the honors of representing the Maritimes for the second successive year in the senior national amateur play-downs. The New Brunswick team which crossed the continent last spring to win Canadian honors in Vancouver from Saskatoon Quakers, overwhelmed Mount Allison University 10 to 1 in the first game of the Maritime final series yesterday evening.

To-morrow they take the nine-goal lead into Sackville, home of the senior B division winners, in the second game of the total-goal series, and unless the impossible happens, will leave shortly after for Montreal to meet the Quebec winners.

Saskatchewan champions were defeated in Regina. Winning 6 to 1 yesterday evening from Prince Albert Juniors and 8 to 6 on the round, Regina Aces took the provincial title and the right to meet Kimberley Dynamiters in the Allan Cup play-downs.

Down in Montreal McGill, senior champions of Quebec, defeated Quebec Aces 11 to 1 in the first game of a total-goal series that will decide the province's representatives against the Maritime winners.

HAMILTON WINS Hamilton Tigers, senior Ontario Hockey Association titleholders, defeated Windsor Mic Macs B champions 5 to 3 yesterday evening and 8 to 5 on the round qualifying to meet Falkenberg here to-morrow night in the state of a series that will provide opponents for the eastern Ontario winners.

Westboro won 4 to 3 from Ottawa Montcalms and 10 to 3 on the round, retaining the provincial title and the right to meet Kimberley Dynamiters in the Allan Cup play-downs. While the seniors were progressing with their eliminations, little was done to clear up the junior situation yesterday evening. University of Victoria's senior Keners played a 4 to 4 tie which left them no further ahead after three provincial semi-final games. Previously Keners had won 3 to 1 and Vanarsy 3 to 2.

Saskatoon Wesleys and Regina Pats made progress in their efforts to decide a Saskatchewan representative in the Memorial Cup play-downs. Their first total-goal series ended in a 4 to 4 tie, but yesterday evening Wesleys edged out a 3 to 1 win and take the advantage into the second game at Regina, to-morrow.

Basanta, O'Connell Checker Winners

Defeating a representative field in a local elimination tournament, I. Basanta and J. O'Connell will carry Victoria's colors in the British Columbia checker meet at Vancouver this month. Leading players from the province will enter the tournament which is expected to get under way on March 20.

Glasgow, Scotland, March 15.—Glasgow Rangers yesterday finally topped Motherwell from leadership of the first division of the Scottish Football League, a position the Motherwell eleven had held since the start of the season. While Motherwell was still the league champions, they were still the league runners-up, having lost 2 to 1 to-day to Glasgow. Rangers, however, defeated Motherwell 3 to 1 to-day to go one point over the Fir Parkers.

Dealats Will Meet Nanaimo

Dealats, intermediate city hoop monarchs, will journey to Nanaimo to-morrow evening to meet the up-and-coming quintette. In the first game of the Vancouver Island final play-downs. The second fixture is expected to be played here early next week. Total points will decide the series.

Victoria and Esquimalt Play 1 to 1 Draw in Fragments Cup Engagement

Two five-minute overtime periods failed to decide a winner in the Victoria and Saanich schools Fragments of France Cup soccer match played at Oak Bay grounds yesterday afternoon. The 1 to 1 deadlock will necessitate an extra game on Monday afternoon. To-morrow afternoon Oak Bay will meet Esquimalt on the same grounds, the winner to meet the victor in the Victoria-Saanich replay for the championship.

The Saanich squad dominated play throughout the first half and the early part of the final stanza, failing on many scores through poor marksmanship. In the latter part of the second half Victoria came back strong with a fine offensive attack.

Saanich pressed from the opening whistle, taking the sphere deep into Victoria territory. Ralph, Saanich, took the ball in front of the Victoria goal-mouth and with a perfect opportunity to score, shot the ball wide of the mark. Some minutes later, Duncan, Saanich, repeated the play with Darley, Victoria goal tender, making a fine save. Victoria took possession for the next few minutes, backs kept them well out from the goal. Another opportunity for a Saanich score came late in the first half, when the ball was centred from right wing with nobody in position to receive. The half ended with no score.

VICTORIA RALLIES

Victoria came back stronger in the final period with McDonald booting a well-placed kick in the Saanich goal-mouth, only to have Burgess save nicely. Saanich turned tables, and repeated the performance at the Victoria goal-mouth with the same result. A freak goal gave Saanich their lone score, when Ord, Victoria back, misjudged, and the ball bounded into his own net. Victoria went to work in earnest in an attempt to even matters up, carrying the play deep into Saanich territory, where McDonald took a pass from Billeborough and banged it home.

Victoria continued to press in the overtime session, but faulty shooting resulted in no score. Just before the final whistle Saanich were awarded a free kick close in. The ball was placed clearly in front of the Victoria goal mouth, with Saanich crowding in, but in the ensuing scrimmage, Victoria cleared to centre as the game ended.

C. N. Lay refereed.

Victoria—Paul (South Park), Milne (George Jay, McDonald (Victoria West), Braithwaite (Oaklands), Fulford (Boy's Central), Turner (Oaklands), Ord (George Jay) and Billeborough (Oaklands).

Centennial All-Blacks, smart juvenile cage squad, journeyed to Ganges yesterday evening and defeated the home quintette 36 to 24 in an exhibition game. Maroons, Sunday School League team, snowed Ganges girls under a 27 to 4 setback in the opening fixture.

Holding a one-point lead at the interval when the score read 16 to 15 in their favor, All-Blacks had the better of the second half play. Hammond, with ten points, led the All-Blacks' sharpshooters, while Johnson led the home club with four.

The teams and scores follow: Centennial All-Blacks—Myers (8), Rawlings (3), McGary, Hampton (1), Hammond (10), Travis (8), Underwood (5), Coates (2) and Harknett. Ganges—Winthrop (2), Snow (2), Alkerman (14), Mackeroy, Nelson (6) and Parsons.

BEAVERS THROWN OUT OF B.C. HOOP SERIES BY PROVINCIAL BODY

Through being unable to travel to Vancouver to meet the Maroons to-night in the coast final the Victoria Beavers have been thrown out of further play for the British Columbia intermediate A boys' basketball championship, according to an announcement made to-day by Frank Shandley, manager of the team. Owing to several of their players being unable to make the trip for the game this evening the Beavers requested the sudden-death affair with the Maroons be postponed until Saturday night, but Walter Hardwick, autocratic secretary of the British Columbia Basketball Association, ruled the Beavers must default the game and yesterday declared the Maroons coast champions. The mainland squad will travel to the interior this week-end to contest the B.C. final. Hardwick's ruling was made against the Beavers, irrespective of the fact that they were defending champions and in the opinion of local officials should have been extended a little leeway. However, this is only one of the hardships that have been worked on Victoria teams during the last two or three seasons by Secretary Hardwick.

BLACKS LEAD IN PLAY-OFF

Defeat Shamrocks 19 to 16 in Victoria High Basketball Finals

Playing a stellar game of basketball, the Victoria High School Blacks yesterday stepped into a three-point lead over the Victoria High School Shamrocks in the first fixture of the two-game series to determine the winners of the Peden Cup. The Blacks took an 11 to 7 lead in the first half and continued their fine form to win 19 to 16. The first half opened fast with the Blacks taking an early lead, from which they were never crowded. Baskets by Austin Webster and "Bank" Hudson resulted in the lead. Ralph Shepherd started the ball rolling for the Shamrocks with a pretty shot from left court, followed by a Harold Turner play, see-sawed for the remainder of the half with the Blacks on the long end of an 11 to 7 half-time score.

PLAY-SPEEDS UP

After the brief rest period both teams applied the pressure with neither squad being able to break through the opposing defence, with the result that the game featured some fast passing combination. The Shamrocks broke loose on a series of attacks that netted them several counters, resulting in their out-scoring the Blacks by two points in the final half.

Norman Florence refereed. The teams and individual scores follow: V.H.S. Blacks—A. Webster 8, C. Coates, D. Surphill, J. Stark 2, B. Hudson 4, A. Kirkbride, H. Chan 5, K. McDonald and A. Jackson. Province Capture Coast Hoop Title

Defeat Victoria Adverts 36 to 15 to Take Senior B Women's Championship Series By Point Score of 65 to 29; Regents Win

Shooting and passing in true championship form the Vancouver Province senior B women's quintette again defeated the local Adverts yesterday evening at the High School gym, taking the second encounter by a 36-15 score which coupled with their Tuesday night win gave them the series and the right to play Kamloops in the provincial final by a 65 to 29 score. The Vancouver squad earned their victories, being the better team in both fixtures. In yesterday evening's preliminary the Regents handed the Chinese Students a 38 to 23 drubbing, leading from the opening whistle until the end.

The Province team was better versed in every department of the game; their shooting, passing, screening, fakes and dribbles being of an exceptionally high calibre for women's team. The Adverts probably turned in their two poorest games of the season, their shooting especially being far below standard.

Betty Passerini opened the scoring from deep in the corner to send the Province away to an early lead while Gladys Munton took the tip-off to ring the second basket of the game. Victoria's first point came when Lucille Spark scored a foul shot but Kay Annan and Freda Iden registered two of the same variety. Betty Passerini and Kay Annan both scored from the field while Mary Coote counted a foul shot to give Province an 11 to 1 lead at the quarter.

ADVERTS IMPROVE

Victoria showed more signs of life in the second quarter for immediately following Frankie Andrews' opening basket for Province, Lucille Sparks and Gert Taylor each scored a free throw, and Mary Peden cannot two Chinese Students' shots from the centre of the floor. Kay Freestone followed with a field goal from outside the blue line to leave Victoria trailing 15 to 11 at the half.

The second half was practically a repetition of the first with Province having all the better of the play. The visitors used all their players, keeping three seconds out of the floor until well on in the final quarter, but try as Victoria might they were unable to cut down the margin. Victoria lost Gert Taylor on four personal fouls in the last quarter which also weakened the Victoria team.

The Adverts, playing as they were against a much more experienced team, gave a good account of themselves, individually, but their teamwork was poor. Time and again they refused chances to draw players and work the ball under the basket for a ripple shot.

Ray Annan was the star for the Province yesterday evening, bagging twelve points to lead the scoring, while the whole Victoria team played about on a par.

McIntyre and Macleod refereed the main game with Hill calling the preliminary.

SEVEN HORSES DESTROYED

Animals Worth Around $40,000 Burned at Belmont Park

Belmont, N.Y., March 15.—Seven thoroughbred horses, valued at from $30,000 to $40,000, were burned to death yesterday evening in a fire which swept a row of stables at the $300,000 Belmont race track.

Kerry Patch, Lee Rosenberg's famous horse, was the only one of the eight horses saved. Jack McCormick, Kerry Patch's trainer, who slept in a stall next to the horse, covered the animal's head with a blanket and led it to safety.

Damage to the stables was estimated by a track official at approximately $100,000.

Rosenberg, owned several of the horses burned, but said he could not estimate their value. H. I. Pels, superintendent of the track, said, however, the horses were worth at least $300,000, and possibly $400,000.

The fire was traced to a live wire which dangled unnoticed in Kerry Patch's stall.

The Belmont plant is considered one of the finest in the world. It was built in 1920. Its clubhouse and grandstand, situated about a quarter of a mile from the stables, were not reached by the fire.

Windsor Wins Windsor, Ont., March 15.—Windsor Bull Dogs yesterday evening wound up their inter-provincial hockey season here by defeating Syracuse Stars 5 to 3. Fred Hergert, Calgary flash, and Markie notched for Stars. Fields with two, Vail, Steele and Duguid were Windsor scorers.

Gilmore Oilers Suffer Defeat

Kansas City, March 15.—In one of the closest checking games played in the national A.A.U. basketball tournaments to date, the Gilmore Oilers of Seattle, Pacific northwest champions, went down to defeat to the highly favored southern Kansas State Oilers here yesterday evening, 18 to 15.

The score at half time favored the winners, 14 to 12. Both teams could only make four points in the closing period so close were potential scores checked.

The defeat cost the Seattle quintette its chances of continuing in the tourney. Victory sent the Oilers into the quarter-finals.

The defending champion Tulsa, Okla., Oilers coasted through into the quarter finals by defeating the Firestone Californians of Los Angeles, 39 to 22.

Varsity Crews All Primed For Classic

Oxford and Cambridge Oarsmen Bid Their Time For Start of Annual Boat Race on Saturday; 1,000,000 Expected to Witness Event

London, March 15. — A plucky Oxford eight, dogged by misfortune during the long training grind, will go out Saturday in a desperate attempt to stem the string of Cambridge victories in the historic boat race.

For the last ten years Oxford crews have labored to the finish line of the gruelling four-and-a-quarter-mile course from Putney to Mortlake in the wake of a fleet of Light Blue shells.

The "depression" has put Oxford well in the bottom end of the tally since whiskered oarsmen on a sunny day in 1929 "started something." Cambridge has won forty-four, Oxford forty, and one has been drawn. The race was not an annual event until 1926.

OXFORD USES VETERANS
In a desperate effort to stop the Cambridge sweep that has already surpassed any previous record of eight wins, Oxford has lavished money on three new shells this year and three new sets of oars, at considerable expense. They have kept five old blues in their shell, which carries a slight weight advantage over the 1933 Cambridge eight with only two veterans.

Practice times may not be conclusive, but on the full-course trials held in the last few days Cambridge has a good edge. The Light Blue did a full-course trial on the old tide in race direction in 19 minutes 31 seconds. Oxford, rowing the reverse way on a full ebb tide, took 19 minutes 43 seconds, and finished rowed out.

The crews for Saturday's duel, which will attract probably 1,000,000 persons on both banks of the winding stretch of the Thames between Putney and Mortlake, will be as follows:

Oxford
Row—W. H. Migott (Worcester) 18 pounds.
2—R. W. G. Holdsworth (Bristol) 165 pounds.
3—P. Hogg (New College) 179 pounds.
4—J. M. Couchman (Christ Church) 182 pounds.
5—P. S. Banks (Christ Church) 180 pounds.
6—J. H. Lascelles (New Zealand) 160 pounds.
7—G. I. P. Thomas (Balliol) 166 pounds.
Stroke—A. V. Sutcliffe (Trinity)

King George Loses Horse in Foaling
London, March 15. — His Majesty's famous mare, Scuttle, the only winner of one of the English turf "classics" for three-year-olds that King George ever had, died yesterday after foaling a filly by Singapore, another classic-winner.

Scuttle, by Captain Scuttle out of Stained Glass, won the One Thousand Guineas at Newmarket in 1928 and altogether won five races for a total value of $30,000. It is hoped the foal may be reared by a "foster-mother."

COLWOOD GOLF
Mixed foursomes will be played at the Colwood Golf Club Sunday. Competitors are asked to arrange for their partners, opponents and starting times. Half the combined handicaps will be allowed and post entries will be accepted.

Britain's Walker Cup Team Selected

Squad of Veterans and "Youngsters" Will Oppose U.S. Golfers in Classic at Prestwick in May; Hon. Michael Scott Is Captain

London, March 15. — A Walker cup team seasoned with veterans and garnished with three brilliant newcomers to international golf, yesterday was named by the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews to carry Britain's colors this year against the United States.

The Hon. Michael Scott, fifty-six-year-old British amateur champion, and a member of the 1934 team, was named captain with such veteran campaigners as Roger Wethered, Cyril James, Hastings Tolley, T. A. Torrance and Eric Fiddian and three youngsters, Jack McLean, S. L. McKimley and M. G. Bentley, as the other members. Two more will be named later.

The rank and file of British golf-dom received the announcement with pleasure, delighted that the committee had fallen back on the "old boys" in an effort to break the string of seven consecutive victories by United States since the series was instituted in 1922.

McLEAN IS GOOD
The "youngsters" of the team came in for praise, however, especially McLean, who last summer was called "the second best amateur golfer in the world" by no less an authority than Walter Hagen. He is the Scottish champion.

The dates for the contests are May 11 and 12, less than a fortnight before the British amateur at Prestwick. A team similar to that selected by Great Britain, but considerably younger in years, was named in January by the United States Golf Association with the veteran Francis Ouimet as captain. The other members are: H. Chandler Egan, Max Marston, George T. Dunlap, Johnny Fischer, Johnny Goodman, Lawson Little, Gus Moreland and Jack Westland.

SINGLES CHAMP GIVEN SETBACK
Hudson's Bay were full value for their unexpected victory over the Garrison. Playing a bustling game and on top of the ball all the way, the green and gold aggregation never once gave the Tommies from Work Point a chance to get set. The importance of the fixture told on the Garrison and in their attempt to play careful soccer their passing was erratic, while their forward line, one which has been the subject of much comment, never looked really dangerous.

Women Re-affirm Stand On Liquor Legislation

United W.M.S. Pass Resolutions For Presentation to Government

Strong opposition to any legislative enactment legalizing the sale of beer or wine or the drinking of same in public eating places, and demanding that the government abolish all forms of liquor advertising was voiced in resolutions passed at this morning's session of the B.C. Conference branch of the United W.M.S. The gathering also considered a resolution asking for an amendment to the Prohibition Act, to define the area in which a plebiscite may be taken; and discussed several resolutions pertaining to internal matters of the W.M.S. organization. Mrs. J. B. Furness, president of the branch, reported a gratifying increase from seventy-one bands in 1932 to eighty-six in 1933. Westminster showing the greatest gain with eight new bands. The B.C. total includes four Indian, three Japanese and three Chinese bands, and also thirteen baby bands, and altogether there is a considerable increase in membership. Mrs. J. B. Furness, supply secretary, noted a very successful year in this department, the mission hospitals and Indian schools receiving an abundant supply, while many hundreds of needy families have been assisted with using clothing. The new supplies reached a total value of $10,000.

PLEAS PEACE CAUSE
Calling upon all who are opposed to war to exercise their influence as individuals in the home, the schools, the church and their own immediate contacts, Professor E. S. Farr made a stirring appeal for renewed support of the League of Nations in its efforts to promote world peace in his address yesterday evening.

CANDLE-LIGHTING PRETTY
Children of the Mission Bands of the various churches in Victoria joined in the number of about forty, joined in a symbolic candlelighting ceremony, which was enthusiastically applauded by the audience. Taking their positions in front of maps representing Japan, Korea, Trinidad, China and India, and Africa and holding a candle that was lighted from another candle symbolizing the Gospel Light, each child recited lines telling about the work being done in the countries represented. Other charts pictured the British Columbia Indians, native and mission schools, hospitals, and the community and mission houses of the pioneer settlements.

MONEY SPENT IN B.C.
Mrs. W. O. Wilson ably reviewed the work being done by the W.M.S. in the Indian missions of the province and drew attention to the fact that of the $30,000 raised by the W.M.S. in British Columbia and sent back to the headquarters in Toronto, more than $20,000 had been returned to British Columbia for work among the Orientals of this province. Workers from these different missions would be heard to-day. A strong appeal was made for more workers.

SUPPER MEETING
At the supper meeting which preceded the evening session, about 200 official delegates and members from all parts of the province were present as the guests of the W.M.S. of the First United Church. After the generous repast, most completely

Reports presented included interesting accounts of Chinese mission work in the province, Miss Gertrude Scott reporting for the work in Victoria, and Mrs. G. P. Louie of Vancouver telling of the work in the mainland city. A group of children from the Chinese kindergarten then sang several hymns in English and in Chinese, under the leadership of Miss Scott.

WORK AMONG INDIANS

Miss Fountain gave an interesting survey of C.G.I.T. work in the province.

Mrs. H. B. Currie, who has worked among the Indians in British Columbia and on the prairie for many years, told of the progress being made in Christianizing the natives. Excellent work was being done in the two Indian schools, which were under the care of the Presbyterian Church, one at Kenora, Ontario, and the other at Birtle, Manitoba. Some of the old Indian customs, which are quickly dying out, were described by Mrs. Currie.

Mrs. R. M. Thomson conducted the question box. Mrs. J. S. Patterson sang a delightful solo and the Westminster Presbyterian conducted the prayer. "Faith's Sublime Venture" was the topic of the afternoon devotion. In charge of the Westminster Presbyterian. The report of the Mission Band and girls' organizations and Young Women's Auxiliaries were read by Mrs. Peasland, Miss White and Mrs. Murchie.

Greetings were expressed by representatives of the four Presbyteries, Kootenay, Mrs. Taylor; Kamloops, Okanagan, Mrs. D. A. Fowle; Victoria, Mrs. W. Sanders, and Westminster, Mrs. R. J. Douglas.

Mrs. R. J. Douglas read the report of the nominations committee. Delegates to the council meeting were appointed in Mrs. G. Herd, Mrs. T. Wilson, Miss White, Mrs. Barry and Mrs. Fowle.

Mrs. W. Sanders installed the new officers and during the meeting the courtesies committee expressed thanks to the Victoria hostesses who had entertained the delegates and to Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell for the use of the church. The organist and soloists were also thanked.

Weddings
HOLLAND-OAK

At Victoria West United Church yesterday evening, Rev. W. R. Brown joined in marriage, Alice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Oak, Atkins Road, Langford, and Mr. Frederick Walter Cyril Holland, eldest son of Mrs. H. P. Holland and of the late Mr. Holland of Victoria.

Mr. Oak gave his daughter in marriage, she making an attractive picture in her frock of pale green silk net over green silk, made floor length. The skirt was ruffled from the waist down, and was worn with a tiny coat with ruffled puff sleeves and finished with a sash of silk. She wore a matching hat of mohair trimmed with lily of the valley, with white lace mittens, silver shoes and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations, white lilies and maidenhair fern. Miss Hazel Oak was her sister's bridesmaid, in a frock of pale pink satin trimmed with white, a white turban and small veil, white lace mittens and white slippers, and carried an arm bouquet of rose tulips, blue lilies and maidenhair fern. Mr. Thomas Catterall supported the groom. A reception was held after the service at Langford, where the guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Oak, the latter wearing a smart gown of navy blue with touches of white, and hat en suite.

The three-tiered cake, made by Mrs. Oak and beautifully iced by Mrs. G. Eldridge, centered the flower-decked supper table. After a short honeymoon cruise among the islands, Mr. and Mrs. Holland will make their home in Victoria, where the groom is an employee of the National Motors. Among the many beautiful gifts received by the young couple was a handsome silver dish from the lady members of the Royal Colwood Golf Club, where the bride had formerly been employed, and many gifts from relatives in England.

MUST SACRIFICE TO AD PEACE

E. J. Tarr, K.C., Pleads Cause of League of Nations to Clubwomen

"To build up a sound collective system for the maintenance of world peace, it is essential to change our method of thinking so as to create a strong non-partisan body of public opinion to bring home to governments the necessity for, and a willingness to make sacrifices in support of, the cause of peace."

E. J. Tarr, K.C., of Winnipeg made this plea before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon in the course of an address in which he declared that the cause of the League of Nations' failure in the Manchurian incident was due largely to the lack of will on the part of the world and the general tendency to begrudge the cost of making the League's machinery effective.

FIRST MOOTED IN JAPAN

The idea of the British Commonwealth conference emanated from an informal luncheon of Britishers held in Japan in 1929 during the meeting of the Pacific Relations Institute Congress, Dr. Tarr recalled, and the first conference was held in Toronto last year, attended by forty-two delegates.

The speaker recaptured something of the atmosphere of the conference by giving a series of thumbnail sketches of some of the leading delegates, including Viscount Cecil, the chairman, a man of immense physical and mental stature.

BRITISH DELEGATES

Sir Herbert Samuel with his great intellectual power and fine humor; D. V. Somerville, British M.P., since knighted and made Solicitor-General; Sir John Power, M.P., who was typical of the extreme right wing of the British public opinion; Professors Toynbee and Zimmern and their contributions, were touched upon among the members of the British delegation. But perhaps the outstanding figure at the conference was Noel Baker, vigorous and youthful Labor member in the British government, and one probably destined to become Foreign Secretary should a Labor government be returned to power.

Some of the South African delegates, whose views ranged from the centralists to those who believed in decentralization in imperial affairs; the Indian delegates, all of whom belonged to the moderate party; New Zealand's representatives, headed by Hon. Downey Stuart, and Australia's group, which was too homogeneous to be really representative, were rapidly reviewed in turn by Dr. Tarr.

HIGH COMMISSIONERS AS DIPLOMATS

Designed to bring to light the different points of view of the various parts of the empire, the frank efforts to interpret the differing views created a fine spirit of understanding among the delegates. One point on which there was complete unanimity of opinion was the feeling that high commissioners should be given diplomatic status, thus developing a feeling of co-operation and commonwealth solidarity, the speaker recalled. The conference was also of the opinion that some machinery should be set up in connection with The Hague Court wherein any disputes between the various Dominions might be settled.

FOREIGN POLICY

That the welfare of the British Commonwealth is largely dependent upon the successful prosecution of steps towards world peace was another view in which all the delegates were in accord. The furthering of good relations with the United States was another aspect of foreign policy in which the conference concurred, he noted.

The significance of the Manchurian incident, in that it has seriously undermined the general confidence in the League of Nations and the whole collective system, was emphasized at the conference. Dr. Tarr said, and he observed that in the event of a complete breakdown of the collective system Canada would be almost forced to make some sort of alliance with the North American group for the sake of self-security.

Mrs. C. G. Spofford expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, the president, was in the chair.

The meeting stood in silent tribute to the memory of Lord Althorp, former Governor-General of Canada. Mrs. A. W. Stokes sang very vividly "Spring Morning" and "Song of Sunshine," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jamie Cameron.

Mrs. Carmichael announced that at the next meeting of the club, Tuesday, March 27, Dr. H. H. Murphy, radiologist of the Jubilee Hospital, would speak.

Victorian Order Nurses Kept Busy

To these 1,177 visits were paid as follows: Twenty-eight prenatal, twenty-four obstetrical, thirty-eight prenatal, forty-two tuberculous, seventy-two cancer, eighty-three chronic, 356 others, three delivery, thirty-two clinics and classes, 189 child welfare, 222 other instructions, including forty-eight T.B. instructive, five on behalf of patients.

Ladies! Why Make Wash Day a Dreaded Event?

NO LONGER is it necessary to go through the drudgery of a Monday wash day." Through the medium of the electric washing machine the emancipation of women has been more completely effected. It does practically all of the work and removes all the back-break and, in addition, reduces wash-day hours to a minimum.

Why spend countless hours in the laundry, putting up with old-fashioned methods that sap your strength, when washing electrically is so much more simple and easy? Then, too, clothes have been found to last much longer when they are washed this way.

The new washers by NORTHERN ELECTRIC embody all the latest improvements, including a new type agitator that agitates clothes at top as well as at bottom of tub.

Illustrated is the Model "S" Playmayd. Sturdily built and well-balanced, it is surprisingly quiet in operation, parts likely to vibrate being rubber-cushioned. It does not require oiling for at least three years. The wringer rolls automatically adjust themselves to various thicknesses of fabric, and a safety device instantly releases the roll pressure.

This Model "S" Playmayd is priced at $84.50. Easy terms are available, and there is a trade-in allowance for your old washer.

Colorful Road Troupe Coming

"Jazzmania of 1934," coming to the Empire Theatre Saturday, is a fine stage show coming direct from a tour of the Fox and Public theatres where the company broke all records. With fifty artists it is considered one of the finest and most colorful musical shows on the road to-day.

Among the headlines are the Three Downey Sisters of National Broadcasting fame; Short and Long, who achieved popularity in "Hit the Deck"; Bernice Allen, the dancing sensation of Chicago; The Parker Twins, the beautiful Fanchon and Marco favorites; Ted Lee, a radio idol, and his internationally famous band of fifteen master artists, and others too numerous to mention.

The production is described as a pictorial record of Broadway, laughing at itself, a story woven around the myths and rumors that have flown out of the film capital and presented in a composite of humor and laughing-provoking situations for the amusement of the movie public. It is based on a play by Caroline Francke and Mack Crane, adapted to the screen by Jules Furthman and John Lee Mahaffey. Also being shown is Evelyn Knapp in "Air Hostess."

DOMINION THEATRE

Lewis Stone, seen as Chancellor Oxeiterna in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Queen Christina," holds the record of having played more roles with Greta Garbo than any other actor. The new picture is at the Dominion Theatre.

Stone has played seven times with Garbo—in "A Woman of Affairs," "Wild Orchids," "Romance," "Inspiration," "Mata Hari," "Grand Hotel," and now "Queen Christina." Directed by Rouben Mamoulian, the new picture reunites Garbo and John Gilbert as screen lovers after five years and has a cast that includes Ian Keith, Elizabeth Young, C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Owen, George Renavent, John Torrence, Gustav Von Seyffertitz and Ferdinand Munier.

ROMANO THEATRE

A splendid double feature is presented at the Romano Theatre to-day. "The Stranger's Return," a story of a girl from the big city who goes to visit among haranguing relatives on the farm, Lionel Barrymore's portrayal of the grandfather is perfect and provides interesting and humorous situations. The added feature, "Breed of the Border," is a thrilling story of southwestern ranch life from the face of the earth. The picture is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

EMPIRE THEATRE

This week the Empire Theatre presents in person the internationally-known Beverly Hill Billies, under the direction of Glen Rice. Appearing in picturesque costume, the troupe recaptures, through songs and music, the romantic atmosphere of the southern mountain country, with its fast-disappearing traditions and quaint customs. On the screen is being shown Dorothy Tree in "East of Fifth Avenue."

Two Pictures At Columbia

Not an expose of Hollywood or New York's "Tin-Pan-Alley," but a music-sprinkled story of a couple of likeable mugs from Broadway who can write swell tunes, but who have a hard time proving it because of girl trouble.

That is the story substance of Paramount's "Sitting Pretty," the screen musical featuring Jack Oakie, Jack Haley, Ginger Rogers, Thelma Todd, Gregory Ratoff and Lew Cody, which is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

It was directed by Harry Joe Brown from an original story, suggested by Nina Wilcox Putnam. In addition to the above named players there are the Pickens Sisters and the Beverly Hill Billies, two popular radio acts.

Wheat Prices Dip To Lower Levels At Winnipeg Pit

Winnipeg, March 15.—Wheat prices followed Chicago quotations to lower levels on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day and finished with losses of 1/2 to 1/4 cent.

There was no feature to the trade. Values started downwards early in the day but finished 1/2 cent above bottom levels. May wheat closed at 67 1/2 cents, with July delivery at 69 1/2 cents.

The market offered little resistance to selling. Offerings were sufficient to keep prices near the low points most of the day. Export business was disappointing.

Chicago prices, which sank about 1 cent, exerted the most bearish influence.

FOURTH DEGREE

A Mystery Novel

By K. S. DAIGER

(Copyright by Macra-Smith Company)

"What then?" asked Anderson, in an almost submissive voice. "Plenty," replied Judson, grinning with that ugly gloating expression flooding his face. "I began to hint around about what her boy friend would think if he came in finding us like that. At first she says there ain't no boy friend, and then she admits that one came once in a while. That was enough for me! "I've had my men watching that house for the last twenty-four hours and I know who the boy friend is!" "Who?" we asked in chorus. "Tim Stokes!"

CHAPTER XXVIII
Anderson sprang to his feet as though he had been struck. "Not Tim Stokes of Chicago?" he shouted. "In person," answered Judson triumphantly. "Good Lord," muttered Anderson. "This is serious."

And he passed his hand over his eyes as though the world were rocking around him. "Where is he now?" "Don't worry," gloated Judson. "Every move he makes is watched and my men have instructions to run him in on the slightest effort at escape from the city."

Inspector Anderson walked to the window and looked out, apparently not hearing the last remark. He played with the curtain absently as he looked out toward the west where the sun was setting in a floodlight of gold and scarlet.

He was thinking. I knew, of all that this meant to him. Another slap at his department for their passing up of such an obvious clue. Another star in Judson's crown. Immunity which he must now be called upon to offer to a man whom he believed to be dishonest. . . .

But Captain Andy was every inch a man. I loved him in that moment of his defeat as I had never done before in the years of our friendship. "Judson," he said turning, "I owe you an apology. You have done a damn good piece of work and I am going to see that you get the credit due you. Put her there."

He put out his hand which the detective took readily. "After all, inspector," laughed Judson, "you have to have a way with the ladies!"

Anderson managed to smile. "Guess you're right, Judson—I suppose we ought to start a dancing school for detectives. What do you suggest we do?"

"Immediate arrest," replied Judson. "I've looked up Tim's record and he's served twelve years for robberies alone. Just out of the still for the theft of the Chamberlain diamonds. He's our bird, all right!"

"But that you are right," replied Anderson honestly. "I'll have him run in at once."

And pulling his hat down over his eyes he stalked out of the room with Judson and me close on his heels.

An hour later, two emergency squads left their quarters in the basement of the Central Police Station. One consisted of five officers, armed with a warrant for the arrest of Tilly, the Phelps' maid.

But the bird had flown. She had crammed some of her belongings into a suitcase, leaving behind her what she could not carry, and had taken French leave some time during the day. Mrs. Phelps had no home address for her—no sample of her writing—no picture—and the general description of the pretty little servant was that of some thousands of American working girls.

The police at once issued lookout circulars to every city, town, and hamlet in the whole United States and placed guards at every station, boat exit and bus terminal leading from Baltimore. We never heard of her again.

The city at this moment was a

Uncle Wiggily's Candy Store

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"What! No carrots?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily as he sat down to the table in his hollow stump bungalow one day.

"No carrots, my dear," answered the lady rabbit, his wife. "Why not?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Did Nurse Jane forget to cook the carrots? I know our muskrat lady housekeeper has been very busy, but when she knows how fond I am of carrots—"

"Oh, it isn't Nurse Jane's fault, don't think it!" said Mrs. Longears, quickly. "As a matter of fact, Wiggily, said the rabbit lady, speaking like a lawyer, "we have no carrots."

"No carrots!" gasped Uncle Wiggily, his pink twinkling nose turning as pale as a marshmallow candy. "Why, I thought we had plenty of carrots in our cellar."

"We had a great many," his wife answered, "but you gave a great many away to poor families this winter and you ate a great many yourself, you know."

"Yes, I am very fond of carrots," Mrs. Longears said.

"And then there are the children," said his wife.

"The children! Are they home from school so early?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "My goodness! I didn't know it was so late!"

"Oh, no," laughed his wife. "I mean the children also ate a great many carrots so what with you and Nurse Jane and the children and me and giving carrots away to the poor, there are none left. You'll have to eat turnips or cabbage or some lettuce."

"Excuse me," squeaked Nurse Jane, coming into the room at that moment, "but there are no turnips down cellar, either."

"No turnips!" cried Mr. Longears. "They went the same way as the carrots," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "And as for the lettuce, we have left in the cellar are some cabbages. You'll have to live on them until spring comes, Mr. Longears, when more vegetables, like carrots and lettuce will grow in your garden."

"Spring is soon coming," said Mr. Longears, "but it will be quite a while before carrots will grow large enough to eat. Oh, dear! What shall I do?"

"Why not take some money and buy us some carrots, lettuce and turnips?" asked the lady rabbit. "That will be easy."

"It would be if I had the money," spoke the gentleman bunny. "But though times are getting better fast they are still a bit hard and I have no money. I guess we'll have to do with cabbage for a while until we can get carrots and turnips and lettuce for our hungry children without money."

"You don't mean you are going to take carrots without paying for them, do you?" asked the lady rabbit. "Oh, my goodness, no!" laughed her husband. "But I was just reading in the paper here that in places where the animal folk have no money they trade with one another. If a dog has a lot of milk which he doesn't want and a cat has a lot of bones she doesn't want, the dog trades his milk for the cat's bones."

"But what have you to trade in that way to get carrots, turnips and lettuce?" asked the lady rabbit. "You have neither milk nor bones."

"But I have a lot of maple sugar candy," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "I made a great deal more maple sugar candy than we can eat in a year. I also gave a lot away, but I have much left. So I am going to open a candy store."

"A candy store?" squeaked Nurse Jane, coming in again. "Do you mean you are going to sell candy, Mr. Longears?"

"No," he answered. "I am going to trade it for carrots, lettuce and turnips. I'll turn my bungalow into a maple sugar candy store and we shall do very nicely by trading until summer comes. Hurry!"

So Uncle Wiggily printed a large sign:

MAPLE SUGAR CANDY STORE

This he fastened outside his hollow stump bungalow and then he waited for what would happen next.

It wasn't long in coming. You shall hear about it to-morrow night when the story will be Uncle Wiggily Makes a Mistake. And I hope you can stop the wind from blowing around the corner of the house and making the front porch think it's the postman whistling with a letter from Santa Claus.
